The features of the Dalton case in Judge Brown's department of the Superior Court this morning in which County Assessor Dalton is being tried on the charge of asking for and receiving a bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company, was the severe cross-examination of Detective Helms, who appeared yesterday as a witness for the prosecution, and the admission that it was Miss Annie Harms of Pleasanton who accompanied Helms to Jack's restaurant in San Francisco. She and Helms occupied room No. 5 in that place when it is alleged that Dalton and Eastman were arranging in room 6 for the handing over to the former by the latter the sum of $5000, in consideration of which Dalton was to reduce the assessment on the company's property in Alameda county.

The admission was made in the course of the cross-examination and brought out a statement from Assistant District Attorney Hynes that the young woman would be produced in the case.

VIGOROUS CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The cross-examination was conducted by Attorney Fairall for the defense, who piled the witness with questions as to how the latter had become connected with the case, what he had done in the restaurant in San Francisco, the kinds of business he had at various times turned his hand to and whether or not he was telling the truth when he appeared for the prosecution.

Helms was asked regarding a number of conversations which he had at various times with the district attorney and other persons connected with the case and, in some instances, had difficulty in recalling what had been said at those times. At others he accidentally stumbled onto facts that he admitted he had forgotten to present in his direct testimony.

Yesterday, he admitted that he and a lady companion were concealed in room 5 in "Jack's" restaurant, San Francisco, at the same time that Dalton and Eastman were arranging the alleged deal in room 6 adjoining. Today, he stated emphatically that he had told the truth yesterday.

Three-Fourths of Century

BETHANY, Conn., July 7.—On the death here of Miss Gennett Tuttle the state lost probably its oldest choir singer, both in age and years of service.

Miss Tuttle was known to all the residents of this town and Seymour as "Aunt Gennett" and was 89 years of age. For three quarters of a century she was a member of a Seymour church choir and during her term of service did not miss a Sunday.

Railroads Must Refund at Rate of $1.90 Per Hundred

WASHINGTON, July 7.—It was held by the Interstate Commerce Commission today in the case of the Auto-Vehicle Company of Los Angeles against various transcontinental rail carriers, that the exaction of a rate of $3 a hundred pounds for the transportation of metal automobile parts in carloads from Milwaukee, Wis., to Los Angeles, was unreasonable. A rate of $1.90 a hundred was prescribed for the future and a reparation on that basis was granted.

the Siberia

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—In a special compartment on the steamer Siberia, carefully concealed, 563 tins of opium, valued at $22,500, one of the most expensive seizures ever made on this coast, was brought about this morning by inspectors from the custom house acting under the direction of Captain J. D. Stone, master of the vessel.

Captain Stone had been led to suspect the existence of the contraband drug on his vessel, and on the arrival yesterday communicated his suspicions to Inspectors Head and Toland, who immediately came on board. A search revealed the fact that beneath tons of coal in bunker No. 9 the tins had been carefully cached.

Barn-Like House Has Mantel
Studded with Garnets and Rubies.

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 7.—D. N. Hawk of this city has completed an original residence. This is an unqualified statement. The front door is designed after the aperture of an Indiana barn, formerly dear to the heart of Mr. Hawk. The ceiling also is a faithful replica of his old barn interior, but he did not overlook a stable door at the top of the stairs landing.

In garish contrast to this barnyard atmosphere, a mantel of gray granite, set with thirty-six rubies, garnets, turquoise and other California stones, struggles for recognition in the parlor. The mantel is valued at $5000.

BERKELEY, July 7.—Without the formality of taking their families or friends into their confidence, Miss Patty Irving and Henry Wrampelmeier, members of two of the most prominent families in Berkeley, slipped quietly away on Wednesday and eloped to Redwood City, where they were married.

The news comes today as a great surprise to the families and friends of the young couple.

Parental objection to the marriage on account of the youth of the parties is said to have caused the young people to take matters into their own hands at the instigation of Dan Cupid.

Vessel Bound to San Diego From San Francisco With Full Passenger List

Steamer in Temporary Command of
First Officer in the Absence of Captain Alexander

SANTA BARBARA, July 7.—The effort to float the steamer Santa Rosa at high tide this afternoon did not succeed, and preparations were at once made to transfer the passengers on the stranded steamer to the steam schooner Centralia. The latter will take the passengers to Port Harford, where train service to the south can be secured.

Three steam schooners are standing by the Santa Rosa and another effort will be made at 9 o'clock tonight to haul her off.

POINT ARGUELLO, Cal., July 7.—The Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Santa Rosa went ashore before dawn today two miles north of the light on this point. The vessel struck at low tide. The steam schooners, the Centralia and the Helen P. Drew, have hawsers attached to the stranded steamer, and it is practically certain that she will be taken off. The tide began coming in before 9 a. m., and the high water will probably float the vessel.

The Santa Rosa, under command of Captain J. O. Faria, was proceeding south. The night was not foggy and the men in charge of the naval wireless station here are at a loss to account for the mishap.

Captain Faria at once communicated with the wireless operators here, saying his position was not dangerous, and that he expected the vessel to be pulled off by the lumber schooners when the high tide put more water under the Santa Rosa's keel.

Captain Faria was so certain as to the safety of his steamer that he made no effort to put off his passengers.

There was not much sea on this morning. The vessel is lying easily on the beach. Nothing has been ascertained so far regarding the extent of the damage to the steamer.

Gives No Information

A message was sent to Captain Faria shortly after 10 o'clock asking for the details concerning the grounding of the steamer, and in a few minutes an answer came, saying:

"No information to give out."

It is expected the steamer will be floated at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mistook Locomotive Headlight

SURF, Cal., July 7.—The steamer Santa Rosa, stranded on the bar off the mouth of the Honda creek, about six miles south of this place. The vessel lies only about 200 feet from shore, and near Saddle Rock, where the ship Yankee Blade was wrecked some years ago.

It is supposed a powerful locomotive light, in use last night by a gang of railroad laborers who were working near Honda creek, deceived the quartermaster at the wheel of the Santa Rosa in thinking it was the beacon at the Point Arguello lighthouse, and caused him to steer the steamer into the beach.

Some of the passengers aboard the Santa Rosa, it is understood, will come ashore this afternoon and take the train for the south.

Not Badly Damaged

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Advices received by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company from the operator of the Southern Pacific at Surf, Cal., indicate that the steamship Santa Rosa, which struck a rock near Point Arguello, has not been badly damaged and the captain expects to get the vessel off at high tide this afternoon. The company has wired Captain J. O. Farla to transfer, if possible, all the passengers to the Southern Pacific trains which are due at Surf during the afternoon. The Shore Line limited and the Coastier left here at 8 and 8:05 a. m. respectively, and it is believed that the 200 persons on board the Santa Rosa can be accommodated. The message received, which has been confirmed by a second dispatch, reads as follows:

"SURF, Cal.—Santa Rosa struck rock two miles west Point Arguello. Now 300 feet off shore. Captain says apparently no damage. Passengers safe. Centralia and Helen C. Drew both have line to vessel. Argyle standing by further out to sea to render assistance if necessary. Captain says expect to get off at high water this P. M."

Ready to Give-Aid

The three vessels which are standing ready to aid the Santa Rosa were summoned by wireless which was in working order for a short while after the boat struck. The Argyle is an oil steamer and arrived after the Centralia and Helen C. Drew had taken steps to save the passengers should the Santa Rosa sink.

The Santa Rosa left here at 11 o'clock yesterday morning carrying 173 first-class and twenty-seven second-class passengers. Captain J. O. Farla was on his maiden voyage as commander in the absence of the regular master, Captain Alexander. Captain Farla, however, while first mate of the vessel, has on numerous occasions temporarily assumed command.

RESUMES RECIPROCITY DEBATE. WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Senate resumed the reciprocity debate today and Senator Granger of North Dakota again attacked the measure.

CO-EDS WILL BE TAUGHT BASEBALL

Seventy-six Women Students Will Qualify as Umpires—Perhaps.

BERKELEY, July 7.—The University of California has organized a new course of study for its summer session, that of teaching the fair co-eds to be baseball umpires. Seventy-six young women students of the summer session are enrolled in the class and every afternoon some one of them takes a hand in practical umpire work on the University campus. A baseball game was played there yesterday afternoon by the men students, and one of the seventy-six women students in the class umpired, apparently to the satisfaction of the nine.

Dr. Everett C. Beach, who is head of the summer school department of physical culture and superintendent of the model playground instruction on the campus, explained the baseball training yesterday. He said: "The women learn the theory of the game on the outside. They get that by watching the big games and then get the practice training here at our playgrounds with the boys who engage in baseball as recreation. "The outside is where they gain the theory, but the playgrounds is the laboratory where we can teach them the fine points of the game. The girls who have taken the course are now thoroughly conversant with all of the points of the game and are able to umpire a regular baseball contest with skill and regularity."

ORR HEADS NEW SCHOOL BOARD EDUCATORS FORMALLY ORGANIZE

CALVIN M. ORR, who was elected president of the Board of Education at its first regular meeting held last evening under the new charter.

Boyle Takes Exception to Appointments and Stormy Session Follows

The new board of education under the new city charter was formally organized last evening, when Calvin M. Orr, who was a member of the old board for the past four years, was unanimously elected president. The meeting was called to order by Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds, who was chosen secretary of the board, which is composed of the following directors: Miss Annie Florence Brown, M. R. Bronner, F. B. Cook, Dr. A. S. Kelly, Harry S. Boyle, Calvin M. Orr and John Forrest, ex-officio member of the board.

John Forrest directed the choice by lot of long and short terms, the result being as follows: Miss Annie F. Brown, two years; F. B. Cook, two years; M. R. Bronner, two years; Harry S. Boyle, four years; Calvin M. Orr, four years, and Dr. A. S. Kelly, four years. John Forrest will serve four years.

The committees appointed by President Orr are as follows: High school—Directors Kelly, Brown and Cook. Finance and revenue—Directors Bronner, Cook and Boyle. Grounds, buildings and equipment—Directors Cook, Kelly and Bronner. Rules and regulations—Directors Boyle, Bronner and Brown. Elementary schools—Directors Brown, Boyle and Kelly.

Forrest is ex-officio a member of all committees, as is the president. Expressing dissatisfaction because he was not appointed on the grounds, buildings and equipment committee, Harry Boyle stated that President Orr had "gone to another room to do it." Boyle emphatically denied the accusation, but Boyle was not satisfied with the denial and continued his argument to the effect that he should have been placed on that committee instead of others in which he had no interest or knowledge. A tempest in a tea-pot was narrowly averted when John Forrest presented a resolution representing the action of the old board regarding the appointment and assignment of two teachers in the department. After much discussion as to the legality of the old board making assignments for the new, Miss Brown, who led the argument, declared that she had been informed by Deputy District Attorney Burpee that under the new State law the old board could not make assignments.

RESOLUTION VOIDED.

The resolution of the old board was declared null and void in the following:

"Resolved, That the action of the old board, taken on June 1, 1911, purporting to assign Principal William M. Greenwell to Peralta school and purporting to assign Principal Mrs. E. A. Wilson to Laurel school, be and the same is hereby rescinded.

"Resolved, That Principal William M. Greenwell be and is hereby assigned to Laurel school and that Principal Mrs. E. A. Wilson be and is hereby assigned to Peralta school."

Miss Brown made a motion asking for the re-election of the principals and teachers of the schools of this city for one year without assignments. The request was unanimously granted by the board.

The high school board will meet on next Saturday morning at 12 o'clock for organization. Next Tuesday evening the board will meet to discuss the bond proposition and decide just what portion of the $2,000,000 expenditure will be made first.

Leaves of absence for one year were extended to Miss Marie Stockton of the Bay school and Miss Joane Leroux of the Garfield school. Dr. A. S. Kelly, one of the directors of the board, who is in Paris, asked for an extension of time and the commissioners prolonged his leave for six months.

PELAGIC SEALING ENDED BY TERMS OF TREATY

Signatures Affixed to Document Insure Protection for Dwindling Herds of Far North

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The final signatures were affixed to the treaty for the protection of seal life shortly before noon at the State Department. The convention will be submitted to the Senate.

By the terms of the treaty pelagic sealing is prohibited in the seas of Bering, Okhotsk, Kamohatka and Japan. The convention arranges for the apportionment among the signatory powers of the annual proceeds of the several seal herds in which they are interested as follows: Thirty per cent of the skins annually taken from the American and Russian herds respectively is divided equally between Great Britain and Japan. Thirty per cent of the Japanese herds divided equally among the United States, Great Britain and Russia and 20 per cent from any herds which may hereafter resort to the breeding grounds under British jurisdiction in the North Pacific Ocean is to be divided equally among the United States, Russia and Japan.

In connection with the apportionment the United States will make an advance payment of $200,000 to Great Britain and Japan each. These payments are to be refunded to this country out of the proceeds of the British and Japanese share of skins taken from the herds. "This payment," says an official statement on the subject, "is in effect merely a loan and was necessary only because the United States reserved the right to discontinue altogether the killing of the Bering Island seals."

The convention also prohibits the hunting of sea otters on the high seas. The treaty will extend for fifteen years and thereafter until terminated by one year's notice by any of the powers concerned. It will now be submitted to the governments whose representatives have signed it for ratification. (Aside from ratification by the Senate it will also be necessary for Congress to pass some legislation to carry its provisions into effect.)

INVESTIGATION BEGINS AT BLIND INSTITUTION

Governor Johnson Opens Hearing at Berkeley; Many Charges Made Against Keith

graduates of the blind department had not been given sufficient training to make them self-supporting; that Miss Delmas, a blind pupil, after being injured, was placed in the girls' ward of the hospital in charge of a man of evil tendencies; that after Keith's appointment as principal only registered voters had been given employment in the institution; that one, Patrick Hanley, after being discharged, was restored to his position through the influence of State Senator Leavitt.

It was also charged that Warring Wilkinson, retired, as emeritus principal, had been receiving the sum of $2000 annually from a bequest made in 1871 by Robert W. Durham of Butte county, which, it is alleged, was intended for the maintenance of the institution only; that proper supervision of the institution's finances had not been maintained, and that one O'Grady, who was alleged to be a moral pervert, had been kept in the institution as an instructor, although he continuously made evil signs to the pupils.

The statement concluded with an appeal in the name of graduates for the appointment of a competent head of the school.

TILDEN IS WITNESS.

Douglas Tilden, the blind sculptor, who finished his studies at the institution in 1879, and taught for eight years thereafter, was one of the most important witnesses of the morning.

The method of communication first bobbled up in Tilden's testimony in connection with his statement that Superintendent Keith was unable to address a body of pupils in the sign language. Tilden declared that Keith was not a competent teacher of the deaf and blind, but that he had heard of the charges of loose conduct made against O'Grady six years ago and did not consider him fit to teach. He averred he knew of no other cases of immoral conduct in the institution.

Then the sculptor admitted, under cross-examination by Attorney Warren Olney Jr. for the defense, that enmity had existed between him and O'Grady for several years on account of the charges of loose conduct made against O'Grady six years ago and did not consider him fit to teach. He averred he knew of no other cases of immoral conduct in the institution.

BELIEVES IN KEITH.

Tilden said that personally he believed Keith to be a good man, and that he had improved during his services. The witness said that he had heard of the charges of loose conduct made against O'Grady six years ago and did not consider him fit to teach. He averred he knew of no other cases of immoral conduct in the institution.

Tilden declared that experts were divided into camps upon the question of whether a manager of a blind institution should know all the methods of instruction.

Monroe Jacobs, a printer of 530 Pine street, San Francisco, and a graduate of the class of 1902, was the next witness and testified at the outset that he was the original mover in the protest against Keith.

Upon the question of a principal's competency, he declared that the principal was not able to make an address to the pupils except by gestures and finger spelling.

Kosuth Selig, a graduate of the class of 1885, and Isadore Selig, were other witnesses who testified in an effort to show that Keith was not a qualified principal. David Becker and John Connelley were though he had been asked by his friends not to appear personally at the investigation. The instructor stated further that he had no thought of personal gain of place or power in taking an attitude unfriendly toward the present management.

He requested time for the purpose of reading a magazine article which he had written upon the subject of the proper qualifications of a teacher of the deaf, dumb and blind. He made a strong argument for the sign language as a means of communication between the deaf and dumb.

At 12:30 o'clock Governor Johnson adjourned the proceedings until 2 p. m.

A large assemblage of teachers, pupils and friends of the school listened to the testimony this morning. George W. Reed, Wigginton Creed and Walter J. Mathews, members of the board of directors of the institution, were interested auditors. Attorneys H. J. Rogers and Harry R. Davis appeared as associate counsel for the prosecution, with Charles W. Reed.

NURSE UNDER FIRE.

Miss Edith Thompson, a nurse in charge of the institution hospital, was under fire this afternoon at the session of the investigators for alleged incompetence. Among the witnesses testifying were Dr. Mark Emerson, the institution's physician, who is chief surgeon of Merritt hospital, who declared his belief that Miss Thompson was a competent nurse, and Miss Annie Cohen, a pupil, who testified regarding treatment given her by Miss Thompson.

Other witnesses were Miss Una McCarrag, a former nurse at the institution, who objected to taking care of an aged janitor who became ill of pneumonia and was taken to the girls' ward. Herman Lukens, another janitor, also testified during the afternoon.

The investigation is expected to last over tomorrow.

DEATH BEFORE 100 IS SUICIDE

Famous Health Expert Says
Century Mark Is Normal Human Age.

Noted Authority Talks to Sick and Ailing of San Francisco.

"Death before a hundred years of age has been reached is nothing more nor less than suicide. A man (or woman) who dies at an earlier age is simply ignorant of the laws of health. Such was the startling statement made yesterday by Prof. James M. Munyon, the famous Philadelphia health authority, who is in San Francisco, to explain his new theories to the people of the city by meeting them in person.

Professor Munyon is a living embodiment of the cheerful creed he preaches. Virile, well poised, active and energetic, his handclasp is as strong as that of a youth, and his steady, earnest eyes are eloquent with the fire and vim of a man in his prime in perfect health. He confesses to 62 years, but many men of 49 would envy his strength and enthusiasm and joy of living. In a statement, Professor Munyon said:

"I am here to tell the people of this city about my opinions on the subject of health, which are the fruit of a lifetime devoted to healing the sick people of America. I shall send my messages through the newspapers day by day, but more than that I want to meet the people of San Francisco and tell them face to face some of the hopeful truths that I have learned. I want, most of all, to meet the sick people—the invalids, the discouraged ones, the victims of nervousness, body-racking diseases and ailments—for these are the ones to whom the message of hope which I bear will bring the greatest blessing. I want to meet the rheumatics, the sufferers from stomach trouble, the ones afflicted with the noxious disease, catarrh. I want to meet the women who have become chronic invalids as a result of nervous troubles. I want to talk to the men who are all run down, whose health has been broken by overwork, improper diet, late hours or other causes, and who are the creeping clutch of serious chronic illness.

"To these people I bring a story of hope. I can give them a promise of better things; I want to astonish them by showing them the record of cures performed through my system of treatment.

"This morning myself and my expert associate physicians will be at the main store of the Civil Drug Company in the Phelan building from 10 o'clock in the morning to 6 at night. I cordially invite all persons who are afflicted with any ailment, who are depressed and who need hope, to call and have a chat with me. My physicians are not allowed to accept a penny for consultation."

SUNDAY SPORTS HIT AT AGAIN

The Garden City Club of New York May Abandon Tennis.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Dean Moses of the Garden City, L. I., cathedral has taken a firm stand against Sunday sports at Garden City and as a result of his complete victory the Garden City club, of which many prominent New Yorkers are members, held a special meeting last night.

Continued was pretty evenly divided as to tennis, the sole sport of the Garden City club members on Sunday. Twenty-one members voted to end Sunday tennis and seventeen voted not to end it. The board of governors will meet next Monday what shall be done with it.

There are two big golf clubs at Garden City and on Sundays supreme court justices and other men of prominence use the links. Visitors also make regular flights on Sunday there.

PLAN CRUSADE ON NATION'S SMOKERS

David Starr Jordan Is Among Those Who Frown On Lady
Nicotine.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The denial by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., of any technical reasons only and with leave to remain, of the application for incorporation of "the non-smokers of America," has drawn attention to a proposed crusade by men of national prominence against the habit of smoking in public places. The incorporators include Dr. Charles C. Pesse of this city, who has attracted attention by having people arrested for smoking in the subway; Prof. Bert G. Wilson of Cornell; Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, president of the American Therapeutic Society; the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, pastor of All Souls Church, Chicago; David Starr Jordan, president of the University of California; and Prof. Winfield S. Hall of the Northwestern University.

The organization's purposes are to encourage and co-operate in the enforcement of laws, ordinances and regulations against smoking in public and semi-public places, and to "secure the co-operation of all persons in control of buildings, restaurants, hotels, theaters, street car, railway stations, railway cars, sleeping cars, dining cars and other places provided for the use of the general public, to prohibit tobacco smoking therein, or to so limit and restrict it that only those who may indulge that habit will be required to inhale the tobacco fumes."

INSANE IN U. S.; SANE IN DUBLIN

Bloomington Attendant Returns From Ireland Without Former Patient.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 7.—Wm. F. Bradley, an attendant at the Bloomington asylum here, who went to Dublin two months ago with Joseph Goggin, a former inmate of Bloomington, has returned without his patient. Bradley reports that Goggin has been declared sane in Dublin. He is still insane in this State and should be returned to this country can be taken back to Bloomington.

Goggin, who is heir to a large estate in Ireland, was temporarily released from Bloomington two months ago on court order permitting him to be away for one year to visit relatives in Ireland. Several physicians at the asylum said that it would benefit his health.

Bradley directed to accompany him to Ireland and return with him within a year, but the court of chancery of Dublin "carefully and repeatedly examined Goggin and decided it was quite unnecessary to have him under the care of a special nurse or attendant."

Goggin was committed to Bloomington on complaint of his wife, who declared that he entertained delusions regarding her conduct and character.

Miss Anne M. Alexander of this city, the generous supporter of the University of California Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, with a party of assistants, is penetrating the mountains of Trinity county to ascertain the fauna of the fauna.

The specimens taken by the explorers are sent as gifts to the museum. Several have already been captured in Shasta valley, Siskiyou county. It is proposed to work from the westward into the Salmon and Trinity mountains.

A point of special inquiry is to ascertain the relationships of the mammal fauna of the Trinity mountains to the one on the one hand with those of the Sierra Nevada coast belt, and on the other with those of Mount Shasta. The Mount Shasta region will represent work continued on the basis of exhaustive faunistic study already made by Dr. C. Hart Merriam of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SWANSON CHAMPION FOR GOOD ROAD CAUSE

Virginia Senator Recommends Annual Appropriation of $20,000,000.

URGES GOVERNMENT TO ACT IMMEDIATELY

Says People of United States
Pay "Mud Tax" of $23,- 000,000 Per Year.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The annual appropriation of $20,000,000 for five years to improve the post roads and rural delivery routes of the government was urged in the Senate today by Senator Swanson of Virginia.

Senator Swanson explained that his plan would open up more than one million miles of roads to government aid, that the states and local authorities would furnish an amount equal to that appropriated by the federal government, and that the total would be divided among the states, according to population.

He said the limitation to postal roads and rules eliminated any constitutional objections. The bill would create a road department, consisting of engineers and capable officials to carry out the project.

SHOULD NOT DELAY.

"The federal government," said Senator Swanson, "should delay no longer extending to the state and local authorities generous aid for road improvement. When the federal government commences to bear its share of the burden of improving public roads that day will mark the beginning of the end of bad roads in this nation."

"Our wealth," Senator Swanson continued, "is greater today than that of any other nation; we have become supreme in finance and foremost in the world's commerce; we surpass in money expended for primary and general education and in mileage of railroads, navigable rivers and improved harbors; the story of our progress reads more like romance than history."

"Yet," he said, "no other enlightened people in the world are cursed with such a wretched condition of roads, with more than nine-tenths of the public roads and highways in the United States during rainy seasons almost impassable."

He said it is estimated that 90 per cent of our internal commerce (which exceeds the "inter-foreign commerce of the entire world") must first or last be hauled over the public roads.

COST OF CARTAGE.

The average haul of this vast commerce over the public highway has been estimated at a little more than nine miles, averaging in cost 23 cents per ton per mile, against 7 cents in France and 11 cents in England and Germany. Based on estimates of what he termed good authorities, improvement of main lines of the system of roads adopted by the federal government would cost $23,000,000 annually to the people of the United States. This is what Senator Swanson calls the "mud tax" paid each year by Americans for hauling their products over poor roads.

Senator Swanson contended that the people of the United States should be treated by the government as gentlemen rather than as savages, and that the people in the American colonies, for whose roads the Washington government has appropriated generously, are not so treated in this bill. He endeavored so to safeguard the government that it would spend no money and incur no expense except after it had received full value in improved roads.

MOVE TO DISMISS
CALHOUN CHARGES

Attorneys Petition for Writ of Mandate Against Lawlor.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—A new move intended to obtain the dismissal of the indictments against Fairfax Calhoun, T. L. Ford, Thorneville Mullally and William M. Abbott in the trolley bribery cases growing out of the graft investigation was begun yesterday when a petition for a writ of mandate was filed in the Supreme Court. The application for the writ of mandate is based upon the decision given by the court a few days ago in dismissing habeas corpus proceedings, which were more than a year ago with the same object in view.

Ford appeared before Judge Lawlor yesterday and informed the court that he had been remanded to the custody of the sheriff. He asked that his bail be fixed.

Judge Lawlor told Ford that his former bail bond for $115,000 would be accepted by the court. The bond was immediately given into the court clerk's keeping to be investigated.

BOY SCOUTS HIKE TO MUIR WOODS

Climb Mt. Tamalpais and Then See Beauties at Distance.

On Monday afternoon at 1:30 the Boy Scouts of the Presbyterian Bible school, Troop No. 1, with delegations from the Hayward Scouts and the Stag Patrol of the Centennial Church left for Mill Valley, where they camped for the night with the Mill Valley Boy Scouts.

Early next morning the party left for the top of Mt. Tamalpais. The first part of the climb was through a heavy fog, but when half way up the mountain side the sun burst through, making the walking very warm. The trail led up the steepest part over what is known as the "Devil's Staircase" and while the climb was difficult the magnificent view more than repaid the hikers for the trouble.

After spending an hour at the observatory, march was commenced toward Muir woods. At West Point the party rested another hour, after which they pushed forward, arriving at Muir woods at 11:30 a. m. Here, after lunch, several hours of genuine enjoyment was the privilege of the crowd, when the final lap of the strenuous trip was commenced, arriving back in Mill Valley in time to catch the 6 o'clock train for San Francisco.

The Osceola boys of the First Presbyterian Church have many such hikes scheduled for the near future and on Friday, July 14, will leave for another camp and hike among the hills of Oakland.

HALE WOULD PUT FAIR NEAR WATER

Believes Harbor View Will Fit
All Requirements Necessary.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—That Harbor View comes nearer meeting the requirements of a site for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition than any other of the projects submitted, is the opinion of R. B. Hale, vice-president and director of the exposition company, who stated yesterday that not only is it nearer the center of population, but, as the big fair is to celebrate a maritime event, it should be located on a waterfront.

"The preliminary vote taken by the directors," said Hale, "showed a decided preference for Harbor View, and among others I voted that way because I feel that this site comes nearer meeting the requirements than any other proposed."

"Being centrally located it will undoubtedly result in a more interesting and successful exposition, insuring the success of the exposition; would prove an inspiration for large government appropriations to be expended in the development of the Presidio, and would bring about the improvement of Lincoln park and the Golden Gate park, and on down the peninsula. The more the possibilities of this site are considered the stronger I am impressed with it as the logical selection, providing sufficient lands are available."

HOMES FOR GIRLS ARE BEING SOUGHT

Probation Officers Say Wages
Are Not So Much an Object as Kindness.

A call for help in finding homes for girls has been issued by Assistant Probation Officers Miss Beatrice A. McCall and Miss Theresa Rich. At the present time there are more homes for Protestant girls than there are girls, but the great need is for more homes for Catholic girls.

Some of these girls are under the care of probation officers, because of unfortunate and unfortunate home conditions, where no blame attaches to the girl, and others because they have not yet learned to enjoy themselves without running into danger.

Homes are desired where these girls can engage in housework and be treated as members of the family, and special attention given to their amusements. The remedy for most of the girl troubles, as for most of the boy troubles, that come to the probation officers, is the old-fashioned prescription, a friend. Wages are not so much an object as a good home and human interest.

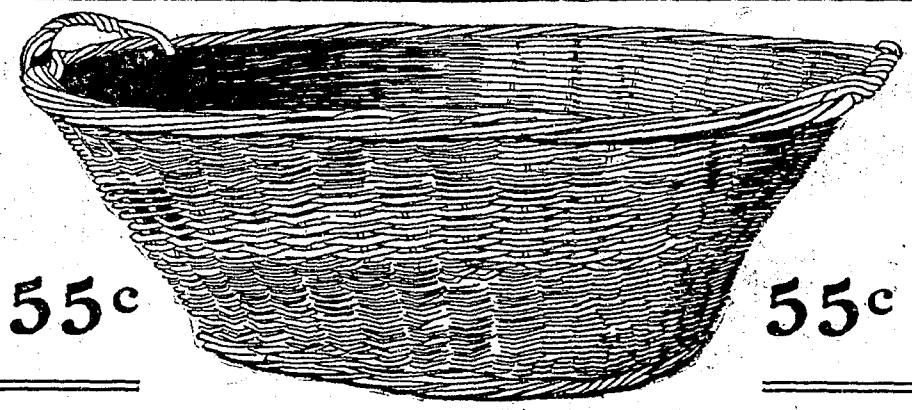

Miss McCall and Miss Rich can be reached daily at the Probation Office, either in person or by telephone, at 413 Nineteenth street, near Broadway, Oakland. "Through the co-operation of the newspapers," Miss McCall says, "numerous girl problems of this character have been solved."

CHIEF WHITE NOT DISPOSED TO TALK

The Head of Police Department Holds Aloof From Newspaper Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Since the reorganization of the police department Chief White has denied himself absolutely to the newspaper men and will offer no explanation for his wholesale shakeup nor even vouchsafe the time-honored title clause "For the good of the service." Through his clerk, Captain John O'Meara, White is hiding behind a reserve that he refuses to have penetrated, and it is understood that he will make further transfers on the force before he allows any statement to be made in his behalf.

The chief has been in close consultation with Commissioner Sullivan, and the mayor's office, and as the charges were made following a conference with the city's attorney, it is thought that he was merely carrying out the wishes of the mayor.

GETS INDIGESTION BECAUSE HE SMOKES THE WRONG CIGAR

Curious Experience of Patron of Osgood's Cigar Department
---Druggist Claims That Shape of Cigar Has Great Deal to Do With the Strength of the TOBACCO---DOING BIG BUSINESS.

"Our advertising has brought us many peculiar and particular customers," said Fred Osgood, the cut rate cigar selling druggist, today.

"I remember one fellow who was in here last week, I think it was Wednesday. He came all the way from San Leandro and was looking for a nickerle cigar that wouldn't give him indigestion. Well, that was a new one on me, so I stood by to see how my cigar man handled him."

"Notice a sort of tied up feeling before you're half through, don't you?" said the cigar clerk. "I know just how it is; I'm affected that way myself and I believe I've a cigar that you'll get along with all right. Try these," and he pulled out a box of "El Cutos," a regular crackerjack 10-cent cigar that we always sell for a nickerle.

"The fellow only took one and went out. Inside of an hour he was back for more and my cigar man tells me that he has been in twice since then and filled up his pockets. That's the first time I ever heard of a cigar doing any one any particular good—in fact, I guess all that the El Cutos did was to avoid stirring things up."

"It's a fact, however," continued Osgood, "that some smokers who can not smoke the 5-cent brands can smoke the El Cutos, but on the other hand, there are smokers who like the El Cutos and Osgood and Renova, which I sell for 7 for 25c, as well as

SOLDIERS PLAY AT MIMIC WAR

Twenty Trained Military Athletes Do Big Variety of Maneuvers to the Great Delight of the Bell Audiences.

The U. S. A. Boys in one of the many drills they execute at the Bell this week.

You would indeed be proud of our soldier laddies if you review the marvelous martial maneuvers of the U. S. A. boys. This grand military spectacle is the prime attraction of a star bill at the Bell this week. The warm weather season promises to be unusually rich in novelties and stellar features at this popular theater. In this era of "wartime" a more fitting feature than that of the U. S. A. Boys could not have been chosen. Twenty able-bodied athletes comprise this aggregation. They have won the plaudits of the crowned heads of Europe and distinguished men of America for their thrilling novelty. They execute a series of military evolutions, embodying the manual of arms and a remarkably intricate drill, including offensive and defensive tactics. Wallscaling and other nimble tactical athletics will be performed by these bright youngsters. The U. S. A. Boys are returning from a three-year tour of Europe and are a big feature of this week's show.

NEW VAUDEVILLE HOUSE PLANNED ACROSS BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The Monarch Investment Company, incorporated here several months ago, has put through a deal whereby San Francisco will have one more up-to-date vaudeville house. The building is to be constructed at Eighth and Market streets, and will be of reinforced concrete and fireproof. Earl B. Scott, an architect, has drawn up the plans and construction work will commence within thirty days. F. C. Logan is president of the investment company.

SINGLES BROUGHT TO SEMI-FINALS

KANSAS CITY, July 7.—One tennis match played before noon today brought ten play in singles down to the semi-finals. Miss Frances Hoeller of Independence, Mo., defeated Miss Pauline Fort of Kansas City 6-4, 6-4. The semi-finals will be played, beginning at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

SAILORS TO GIVE AN EVENING OF BOXING

VALLEJO, July 7.—This city is to see an evening of boxing events under the management of Charles F. Grennan of the Palm Athletic Club on or about August 5, at Grennan's Floden arena. Most of the events will be between sailors from the vessels of the Pacific cruiser fleet. Grennan will endeavor to make the tour, if present plans materialize. This climb will not be obligatory for all contestants in the run, but will be a special event carrying special awards of its own. Those acquainted with the new State highway via Auburn and Emigrant Gap, over which the run is to be arranged, declare that there are many stretches offering excellent opportunity for a hill climb. Before definite decision will be made for the event, however, the pathfinding committee, which covers the route this month, will have to be satisfied that the road is both wide and straight enough to insure safe competition in a climb where speed will necessarily be a factor. Should a suitable course be found, and, as a matter of fact, little fear is felt on this score, it is hard to conceive of a hill climb that would demand greater popularity here or be better received in the East than one over a regular Sierra grade.

FIND DECOMPOSED BODY IN RESERVOIR OF CITY

MARTIN'S BERRY, O., July 7.—Residents of this city and Bridgeport, O., for several days have complained of impure water coming from the reservoir here and today the decomposed body of a man was found in it. Investigation showed that foreigners working in the coal mines had been using the reservoir for bathing purposes.

LOCOMOBILE CO. TO HAVE BRANCH IN OAKLAND

L. W. Williams, Manager, to Have Factory Experts On Staff.

MOUNTAIN CLIMB TO FOLLOW SIERRA RUN

Massachusetts Has Law Requiring All Vehicles to Carry Lights at Night.

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)
Preparatory plans for the opening of the Locomobile branch in this city are nearing completion. The store at Twelfth and Harrison streets, formerly occupied by the Central Motor Car Co., is undergoing a general overhauling. When completed the salesrooms will be among the most up to date in this city.
L. W. Williams, who will be the manager of the branch, has been connected with the Locomobile company for some time and is well fitted for his new position. With him, to care for the many owners of Locomobiles on this side of the bay, will be a staff of factory experts. Their presence will make possible a more satisfactory method of caring for customers than was possible under the old regime.

It is interesting to note that this company is the first to establish a factory branch here. True, other houses have long been represented by local stores, but in every case it has been a San Francisco representative of some particular car to establish a branch in Oakland.
The only other branch houses maintained by this company are in the largest cities in the country, namely, New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

HILL CLIMB IN SIERRAS.

With the purpose of making the coming Lake Tahoe endurance run one of the biggest motor carnivals ever promoted in the West, a hill climb will be held somewhere in the Sierras in connection with the tour, if present plans materialize. This climb will not be obligatory for all contestants in the run, but will be a special event carrying special awards of its own. Those acquainted with the new State highway via Auburn and Emigrant Gap, over which the run is to be arranged, declare that there are many stretches offering excellent opportunity for a hill climb. Before definite decision will be made for the event, however, the pathfinding committee, which covers the route this month, will have to be satisfied that the road is both wide and straight enough to insure safe competition in a climb where speed will necessarily be a factor. Should a suitable course be found, and, as a matter of fact, little fear is felt on this score, it is hard to conceive of a hill climb that would demand greater popularity here or be better received in the East than one over a regular Sierra grade.

VEHICLES MUST HAVE LIGHTS.

Massachusetts has passed a law requiring "every vehicle on wheels to have attached to it lights, or lights, which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and the rear, during the period of one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise." This statute is the result of the activity of the American Automobile Association's state body and the chairman of the Massachusetts legislative committee was none other than L. R. Speare, indicating that the ex-president of the national organization does not intend to be pined in the "back seat" class.
The "lights-on-all-vehicles" act, it may be somewhat surprising to note, was first secured in New Jersey by the associated automobile clubs, though the original measure was rejected by the legislature. It truly effective, brought about by the Jerseyites at the recent session of their legislature.

While it would appear that in these days of multiplied road travel, common safety would require that all vehicles should carry lights at night, it has been an exceedingly difficult proposition to secure legislation along these lines. But the A. A. A. bodies in New Jersey and Massachusetts persisted, and it is now a certainty that similar statute will be sought and secured in all parts of the country.

The Automobile Club of Buffalo files a claim to being the largest motor club in this country, but in the entire world. President Laurens Enos yesterday wired President Robert P. Hooper, National headquarters, that 3113 Bismarck now record the motor club secretary Dai H. Lewis, known throughout the country as the pathfinder of many A. A. A. tours.
Transcontinentalists are no longer looked upon as extraordinary motor travelers, though one of the most persistent tourists both here and abroad is W. M. Garland of the Automobile Club of Southern California, from which big organization of the Pacific Coast there comes word that its ex-president is now en route from Los Angeles to New York City.
The Los Angeles-Phoenix endurance contest this year will be via San Diego and President G. P. Bullard, of the Maricopa Automobile Club has just completed the details of the course to Phoenix, which, as the chief city of Arizona, figures as the leader in automobile affairs, with very substantial attention to highway improvement.

TY COBS AND THE LOZIER.

For the purpose of persuading Ty Cobb, champion batsman and the greatest drawing card in the American League, to enter the theatrical field at the close of the present baseball season, Paul Armstrong, the well known playwright paid a four days' visit to Detroit last week. The author of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and several equally famous American plays believes in combining pleasure with business, and to that end passed up the Pullman car in favor of his Lozier car, in which he traveled the distance between New York City and Detroit.

Armstrong was accompanied on the trip by his chauffeur, a Frenchman and former European driver who has lived in an atmosphere of gasoline and the roar of the industry. The writer of plays tells several amusing incidents of the jaunt through New York state.
"We were traveling along on a dark stretch of road one night," said Armstrong, "with practically no warning, the car suddenly shot out into space and plunged down an embankment into a stream and stuck there up to its hub in the water. The Frenchman was driving and in answer to my inquiry as to how we were going to get out, he replied, 'Vy, ve back to the car in the reverse.' We came out of the water slowly and the car began its backward climb up the steep hill. Once at the top, the impulsive Frenchman jumped out, kissed the radiator and exclaimed: 'Oh, vat a car is that lovely Lozier.'"

SEEK TREASURE IN HOUSE OF DEATH

Eager Wealth Hunters Descend
On the Home of Pittsburg Man.

PITTSBURG, July 7.—A few minutes after it became known yesterday that Frederick Prager had been found dead in bed at his home, neighbors rushed to the house and began ransacking it for $11,000 rumored to have been hidden somewhere about the premises. It took a squad of police to clear the house of fortune hunters and save the building from being wrecked.

Prager succumbed during the night to the heat. Three weeks ago his sister, Mrs. Emma Strana, committed suicide, and a few months ago her husband, John Strana, met a violent death in a mill. The three deaths wiped out the Strana-Prager family and neighbors are endeavoring to find their fortune.

The police will make a thorough search.

SUES HUSBAND FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE

Ferdinand Kahn, who conducts a garage at 2150 Central avenue, Alameda, was sued yesterday in the Superior Court for separate maintenance by his wife, Deborah Kahn. She says that Kahn has a monthly income of more than $250 a month, and $125 of this she asks the court to award her regularly as permanent alimony and for the maintenance and support of the two minor children.

Mrs. Kahn alleges in her complaint that in December, 1910, while the family resided at 1317 Willow avenue, Alameda, Kahn, without any provocation, took up his apartment elsewhere in the Emclinal City and refused to speak or converse with her; that he has been sullen and disagreeable towards the children, frequently refusing to speak to them or recognize them when they addressed him, and that during the entire period of her married life, which began in August, 1900, Kahn supplied her with but two dresses and one hat. It is also charged by Mrs. Kahn that her husband has been indulging in almost nightly "joy rides" with women.

FAIRALL ADMITS MONEY FOUND ON DALTON IS FULLY IDENTIFIED

MISS HARMS TO BE NEW WITNESS

Young Woman From Pleasanton Accompanied Detective Helms to "Jack's."

terday regarding the transaction, but this morning a waiter in that resort testified to a state of facts that tended, in a measure, to offset the effect of Helms' testimony in that regard.

The waiter, August Krepps, said that he recognized Dalton and Eastman as having been in the restaurant on the day in question. This morning, he testified that on the day that Eastman and Dalton were together in room 6, room No. 5, adjoining, was occupied by a man and a woman who had been patrons of the place for some time.

Hynes caused Krepps to admit that on the third of June, the latter had stated to Detective Hodgkins that he did not know who was in room No. 5 at the time of the conference between Eastman and Dalton. Krepps also admitted in response to questions by Hynes that he had been spoken to about the case since by Dalton agreed with Vice-President Eastman of the Spring Valley Water Company, in consideration of a bribe of $25,000, to reduce the assessment of that company in Alameda county. The agreement, it is alleged, was reached in room No. 6, while Detective Helms lay on the floor of the adjoining room, No. 5, listening to the conversation.

Attorney Fairall and that the latter had paid him two-bits.

CASHIER TESTIFIES.

William O. Cullen, assistant cashier of the Bank of California of San Francisco was examined and said his bank was the depository of the Spring Valley Water Company. He identified the check for $5000 which was presented by Secretary Behan of that company. He said he had cashed the check, paying Behan $5000, the amount called for by the check. He stated that there could be no bank note issued by any bank duplicating the serial number, the treasury number and the denomination of another note.

Hynes handed the witness a paper which the latter said was the list upon which he had checked off the serial and treasury numbers and denominations of the notes when the money was paid over to Behan at the Bank of California.

Cullen was about to check over again the money with the list handed to him when Fairall, for the defendant, said it would take some time to check over all the bills with their numbers and that he was willing to stipulate that the bills in question were the same which were paid to Behan by the Bank of California and which were found on the person of Dalton at the time of the latter's arrest. Cullen was then excused.

August Krepps, a waiter in Jack's rotisserie in San Francisco, was sworn. He recognized the diagram of the restaurant. He knew Dalton by sight and did not know Eastman until this case came up. He had seen Dalton and Eastman in the early part of May.

"What room in the restaurant did Dalton and Eastman occupy on the first of June?" asked Hynes.

"No, 6."

"Did they have lunch?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember who left the place first?"

"I think it was Dalton but I am not sure."

"Did they come back again?"

"Yes, in a short time. Mr. Eastman telephoned he was coming in the morning."

"Did he get No. 6 again?"

"No. It was occupied. Mr. Eastman went to No. 2 and then went out on the street. Then Mr. Dalton came and by that time the party in No. 6 got out and Mr. Dalton then went into the room. Then Mr. Eastman came back again and went in with Dalton."

"What time was it when Dalton and Eastman went into room No. 5?"

"It was after 12 o'clock."

OTHERS IN NO. 5.

The witness said that on the second occasion, when Dalton and Eastman were in room 6, there was another party in room 5, that had been eating there for some time.

"I think it was Dalton but I am not sure."

"Did they come back again?"

"Yes, in a short time. Mr. Eastman telephoned he was coming in the morning."

"Did he get No. 6 again?"

"No. It was occupied. Mr. Eastman went to No. 2 and then went out on the street. Then Mr. Dalton came and by that time the party in No. 6 got out and Mr. Dalton then went into the room. Then Mr. Eastman came back again and went in with Dalton."

"What time was it when Dalton and Eastman went into room No. 5?"

"It was after 12 o'clock."

"Did they have lunch?"

"Yes."

Hynes then took the witness in redirect examination.

"Didn't you," he asked, "tell Detective Hodgkins on June 3 that you didn't know who was in room 5 on that day?"

"Yes, but they told me later that they were in there. They were eating there some time."

HE GOT TWO BITS.

"Have you talked with Attorney Fairall since the day you saw Dalton and Eastman?"

"Yes."

"He's been to see you at the restaurant? Did he give you anything?"

"Yes, he gave me two-bits."

"When I was there, I didn't give you anything, did I?" asked Hynes.

"No."

"I didn't even buy you a drink, did I?"

"No."

"Detective Helms was then recalled."

"Was anything said," asked Hynes, "when Donahue was talking to Dalton, about a person with a big fat face?"

"There was," was the reply.

"What was it?"

"Donahue asked who was the person with the fat face who was with him in Jack's restaurant and why Dalton had not asked him to stay for lunch."

"What did Dalton say?"

"Dalton said he might have stayed if he had wanted to."

"Did you hear the conversation in which Donahue said to Dalton that he might bring Eastman into the room?"

"Yes."

"What did Donahue say?"

"He said that he might bring Mr. Eastman into the room and ask him whether Eastman had given Dalton the money."

"What did Dalton say?"

"He said he didn't care what Donahue did."

"When you arrested Dalton, on the street, did you notice the appearance of Dalton's face?"

"Yes."

FACE TURNS PALE.

"Was there any difference in the appearance of Dalton's face after the money was found on him?"

"Yes, his face became very pale almost instantly."

"Any other thing you noticed?"

"Yes, his lips quivered."

Helms was then cross-examined by Fairall.

"You said that you were in room 5 in Jack's restaurant," asked Fairall.

"Yes."

"Was that the truth?"

"Yes."

"Now tell the jury what you did there."

Helms said that he went to the restaurant about 11:30 o'clock in the morning and that he went first into room No. 5 and afterward into room No. 6. He went into the latter place and pulled the bolts and raised the door. He denied that there were any persons in the room while he was in it, but that a party entered it after he had returned to room 6.

"Who was with you?" asked Fairall.

"My companion," was the reply.

"Who was your companion?"

"A lady."

"A lady in a French restaurant?"

"Yes."

"Who was it?"

"Miss Harms."

"Where does she reside?"

"Pleasanton, Alameda county."

"A friend of Mr. Donahue's?"

"I believe she is."

"We'll produce her," interjected Hynes. "Is she a friend of yours?"

"Yes."

"How did she come to go to the French restaurant?"

"I took her there."

"Did you tell her what you were going to do?"

"Not exactly."

"Did she know it was a French restaurant?"

"I believe she did."

"Where did she go in the restaurant?"

"She went into room 5."

"What did she do?"

"She sat down."

"What did you do?"

"I got up and went into room No. 6."

"What did you do there?"

"I loosened the fastenings on the door."

"What is your business?"

"I am a purchasing agent."

"For whom?"

"The witness mentioned several firms for whom he had worked. He was also questioned as to how he became connected with the case and gone into the employ of the district attorney. He specified several cases that he had worked on as a detective, among them being the Delaney case, that of the book-sellers at the race track, a case that involved the disappearance of a scarf pin and several others. He was also, he said, deputy sheriff."

"How long have you been a detective?"

"From the time of the Delaney case. If that was two years ago, then it's two years."

"Did you want to become a detective?"

"No."

"Did you ever read the life of William J. Burns, the great detective?"

"No."

"Did you ever read about Sherlock Holmes?"

"No."

"What are you doing now?"

"Working with my brother raising vegetables."

"Why didn't you say you were a farmer?"

"Because that is not my business."

"What is that badge for that you have under your coat?"

"It is a deputy sheriff's badge."

"You are a deputy sheriff too?"

"Yes."

"Under pay?"

"No."

"Have you been paid yet?"

"No."

"Are you still employed?"

"I suppose so."

"Have you had any expense money?"

"No."

"Have you put in any bills for your work?"

"No."

"You haven't drawn a cent?"

"No."

"When do you expect to get paid?"

"I don't know."

"Do you know any person connected with the Spring Valley Water Company?"

"No."

"At first I thought I did not, but I have learned that there is a man working for the company named Elliott whom I knew a long time ago."

"You don't know any of the officials of the company?"

"Only those I have met since the opening of this matter."

"At this juncture Fairall declared that a person who would act as a spy might be expected to do anything that was mean."

Hynes jumped to his feet and requested the court to instruct the jury that they must disregard the remarks of counsel for the defense and to admonish the latter that he was not allowed to insult the witnesses for the prosecution. The court admonished the jury as requested.

"Who told you to take a lady to the French restaurant?"

"Mr. Donahue," was the reply.

"What did Donahue say?"

"He said to take the lady to San Francisco to the office of the Spring Valley Water Company and have her instructed as to what she was to do."

"Did Mr. Eastman talk to your lady friend?"

"He did not."

"Where was she when you went to the office of the Spring Valley Water Company?"

"She was waiting for me at a street corner."

"Did she go with you to the restaurant?"

"Yes."

"Did you eat anything?"

"No, I think she ordered some crab salad."

"Did you have anything to drink?"

"Yes, a bottle of white wine."

"ONE LARGE BOTTLE."

"Was it a pint or a quart bottle?"

"I don't know whether it was a pint or a quart."

"It was a large bottle."

"Yes, it was a large bottle."

"Was there much left in it when you were through?"

"No, there was not much left."

"Did you have a second bottle?"

"No."

Fairall then referred to what Helms had done in room 5 while he was listening to the conversation between Dalton and Eastman in room 6. He told the witness to show how he had made his notes of the conversation. Helms started to tell him but the attorney insisted upon the witness getting down on the floor and for a few minutes Helms lay prone upon the carpet of the courtroom with his note book in one hand and his pencil in the other, showing he had thrown himself on the floor of the dining room during the conference.

"How long did you remain in that position?" asked Fairall as the witness was hugging the carpet. "About fifteen minutes at a time," was the answer.

"And yet," said Fairall, "the conversation occupied a couple of hours?"

"I did not remain on the floor all the time. I would lie there for fifteen or twenty minutes and then I would get up and go to the table and make my notes. I did not write when I was on the floor."

"When you were on the floor in what direction was your back?"

"It was toward the ceiling."

Noon recess.

HELMS STILL UNDER FIRE.

The cross-examination of Helms was continued this afternoon.

"What suggested," asked Fairall, "the

Helms Declares Dalton, When Arrested With Marked Bills, Said Money Was His

"When THE TRIBUNE went to press yesterday afternoon, the cross-examination of William P. Lawrence, superintendent of the Spring Valley Water Company had not been concluded. Attorney Fairall for H. P. Dalton conducted the examination."

Lawrence stated that his first meeting with Dalton was in 1909. The meeting was made by appointment to the attorney's office. In 1909, he had gone before the county board of equalization protesting against the riparian rights assessment but the board denied the protest. He stated further that he had several meetings with Dalton at which the subject of a reduction of the riparian rights assessment had been discussed, but that Dalton had made no objection. Later, he took a trip around the company's property. The trip was made in an automobile. On the trip went Assessor Dalton, Chief Deputy Assessor Robinson and the witness.

Lawrence showed the company's property to the assessor but the latter said that he thought the valuation should be increased. At the same time Lawrence said he believed Dalton would reduce the assessment.

ON SECOND TRIP.

On the second trip there were the assessor and his wife, Mr. Beebe and his wife, Assistant Deputy Assessor Robinson and the witness. Lawrence said the company filed with the assessor a statement showing the cost of construction in 1910 but that no such evidence was attached by the attorneys for the defense to a letter which had been introduced by the prosecution which Behan, in his examination, had stated he had accidentally carried away from the office of the assessor on March 17, 1911, and on which the assessment of the corporation had been calculated.

The postmark on the letter was "June 18, 1910," the day on which Lawrence had met with Dalton. Notwithstanding the fact that Lawrence had testified that no report of his meeting with Dalton had been reported to Behan, the secretary had found the letter among other papers relating to the case which were presented in court this week.

HELMS TESTIFIES.

Lawrence was excused and the next witness was George J. Helms, who stated that he had been employed as a detective by the district attorney. He was told what was the purpose for which he had been employed. He had gone, he said, to the office of Attorney Olney in San Francisco and had there met Behan and others.

"I went," he continued, "to Jack's restaurant in San Francisco. I had a companion, a young lady, with me. I secured a room near the end of the building on the second floor. It was room No. 6."

Hynes pointed out a room on the diagram and the witness stated that that was the room which he secured.

"There was," he said, "a rolling lattice door between room No. 5 and the adjoining one, No. 6. There was a portiere on either side of the door. There was a table and some chairs in room No. 6. Room No. 6 was similarly furnished. I went into room No. 6 and then went back to No. 5. I drew back some bolts on the door to raise it up several inches from the floor."

RECOGNIZES VOICES.

"I recognized the voice of Eastman in No. 6 and I also recognized the voice of Mr. Dalton, the defendant."

"Did Dalton say how he proposed, to make the reduction. Dalton said he would make a reduction which would save about $50,000 for the company and that he wanted half of the amount of the money which the company would save. Eastman said he wanted Dalton to write a letter on the subject to Donahue. The latter said he did not think that the letter would amount to anything but at the same time would write it. He did not believe that the district attorney amounted to much."

"They then discussed the question of the payments of the $25,000, the original proposition of which was that $7500 should be paid immediately, $5000 later and $12,500 to be paid after the reduction had been made. Eastman said that he could not make the first payment $7500, but would have to limit it to $5000, because he would have to use his own money. Dalton said that that would be satisfactory."

MAKES NOTES WHILE IN ROOM.

The witness then was allowed to refresh his memory from his notebook, the notes which he testified he made while he was lying on the floor in room No. 5. Dalton, according to the witness, when Eastman started to make a letter for the district attorney, said:

"I don't care about the District Attorney, even if he is the advisor of the Supervisors. He has nothing to do with the assessment. That is a matter for the Supervisors and I don't care for them either, because I have got three of them. He also promised to write a letter to the District Attorney, but said it would be better for Eastman to write him a letter on the subject, but at the same time not to mention any amount for a reduction."

"Dalton also stated that he would reduce the assessment on the Spring Valley Water Company's property just before he would send the rolls to the Supervisors so that they would not be able to change it within the last five days of the session of the County Board of Equalization."

"Dalton also stated," declared the witness, "that he had no fear of the District Attorney, because Donahue had opposed the raising of the salary of deputies in the Assessor's office, but Dalton said that he got the money and raised the salary of his deputies."

"Dalton also stated to Eastman that it would be one chance in a thousand of any person learning of the reduction in the assessment."

The witness stated that he had made notes in his notebook of the conversation which he overheard and that while he was making the notes he lay on the floor of room No. 5 and that in order to hear the more satisfactorily he had drawn himself up to within a few inches of the roller door between rooms No. 5 and No. 6, which door was raised about three or four inches from the floor."

"How long did you lay in that position?" asked Hynes.

"The conversation lasted from about 12 o'clock until twenty minutes to 2 o'clock. I wrote most of my notes while I was on the floor. They were all written at the time I was in room No. 5."

"What left the place first?"

"Dalton left the place first."

"When did Eastman leave?"

"I heard Dalton's footsteps die out on the stairs and then Eastman rang the bell and came in and asked for a check, and then he went out."

"Were you in the office of Warren Olney Jr. on May 11 of the present year?"

"Yes."

TESTIMONY AROUSES SNEERS

Derisive Smiles From Girls Greet W. E. D. Stokes' Tale on Witness Stand

Mrs. John Singleton and Defendants Appear in Dainty Summer Frocks

NEW YORK, July 7.—W. E. D. Stokes' testimony was unfinished when court convened today for further examination of the charge that an attempt to murder Stokes had been made a month ago by Miss Lillian Graham and Miss Ethel Conrad. The purpose of these proceedings is to determine whether the evidence is sufficient to warrant sending the case to the grand jury, but the examination and cross-examination is conducted with such thoroughness that it amounts practically to a trial.

On the stand yesterday Stokes gave his version of the alleged attempt on his life when he visited the young women's apartments at Miss Conrad's invitation to recover the letters he had written to Miss Graham.

LETTERS RECOVERED.

These letters were found by detectives in the girl's rooms a few days after the shooting and since then have been in the possession of the district attorney. In them Stokes, who said on the stand yesterday that he was 57 years of age, for the most part adopted toward the young girl an attitude of fatherly counsel, advising her against the stage, against intoxicating liquors and about life in general.

The two defendants and Miss Graham's sister, Mrs. John Singleton, wife of a wealthy California mining man, who accompanied them in court, listened to Stokes' testimony with frequent derisive smiles. All three dress in the daintiest of summer costumes and present a refreshing sight in the torrid courtroom.

STOKES IN SOMBER BLACK.

The pretty young defendants were dressed alike today in striking gowns of white serge trimmed with satin. Stokes wore sombre black and carried a boat-shaped straw hat of the coolie fashion.

When Stokes resumed his testimony he said he was not sure how many letters introduced yesterday were his. He thought about eight. He told of a visit made to his office May 21 last by Miss Conrad, which was the first time the letters were introduced into notice. She came into his office, highly excited, and was unable to speak for some time.

"When she became calmed," Stokes continued, "she told me she had been out to dinner the night before. She met Miss Graham, she said, at the dinner and the young lady was in distressed circumstances with little money and no clothes and that she had taken her home to her room."

"When I went out this morning to business," Miss Conrad said, "I left Miss Graham in bed. I forgot my pencil and returned for it. When I went into the room I was shocked to find a note on the table together with a bundle of letters, the note saying that Miss Graham had committed suicide and she had addressed the letters to me."

"Miss Conrad also told me," continued Stokes, "that some of the letters were mine and some belonged to other men. She said she rushed into the bedroom and found Miss Graham in bed, her face all blistered and burned, where she had spilled carbolic acid. A doctor was called and pumped her out. Miss Conrad said, 'and she died.'"

Miss Conrad, according to Stokes, proceeded to narrate to him her family history. She was, according to this narrative, the daughter of a Russian prince, who had been killed in the Louisiana Purchase, and she had been married to a man named John Graham, who was killed in a riot.

Losses of a kind or another reduced the widow's property from $200,000 to $20,000, which latter sum she collected in New York on insurance. This $20,000, Stokes said, Miss Conrad told him was so managed by a man named John Graham, who was killed in a riot.

"She said," the witness continued, "she had come to see me on her lawyer's advice to tell me about the letters she found on the table with the suicide note."

"I told Miss Conrad that Miss Graham was an undesirable woman," said Stokes, "and that I would not give Miss Graham one cent, but I said I would give Miss Conrad money for the nurse to look after Miss Graham. Miss Conrad wanted me to sign a note for $200 to allow Miss Graham to go abroad. I said I would not, I would give her no money, because I thought Miss Graham was a dangerous woman."

Stokes said he offered to draw a check for $200 to enable Miss Graham to go to Belgium to join her sister, whereupon he continued:

"Miss Conrad said 'Oh, no; don't draw a check; there might be some scandal about it. Give me the cash.' I said 'All right,' and gave her the money."

CLOSELY QUESTIONED.

The defendant's attorney questioned Stokes sharply regarding Miss Graham's visit to his farm in Lexington, Ky. The defense has alleged that Stokes was not allowed to answer this question, but replied that she remained at the farm about three days.

His attorney read the letter of invitation, in which Miss Graham's sister was asked to visit Stokes at the same time.

"But you did entertain so-called fatherly affection for Miss Graham, did you not?" asked the girl's attorney.

"I did feel kindly toward her," replied Stokes, "turning to smile at the young woman."

"What were your intentions toward her?"

"To be polite to her."

The prosecution closed its case with a motion for a judgment of acquittal, which the house after a short deliberation refused.

He said the girls told him that they had shot Stokes.

VAN GUARD OF N. E. A. ARRIVES HEADQUARTERS AT ST. FRANCIS

MRS. ELLA FLAGG YOUNG, who is one of the prominent educators at the national convention.

President Ella Flagg Young Will Be Guest of Honor at Elaborate Banquet Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Accompanying Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, president of the National Educational Association, who arrived yesterday, were some of the most prominent educators in the country. Among them were Dean Walter T. Sumner, Julius Smietanka, Mrs. Isabelle O'Keefe, members of the Board of Education of Chicago; Miss Gertrude English, district superintendent of school superintendents of Chicago; Miss Ella C. Sullivan and Rufus Hitch, school district superintendents; Miss Etta Gee, Miss Abbie Lane, Mrs. Abbie Ellings, Mrs. Mary E. Fellows, Miss Lucia Johnston and Miss Grace Reed, school principals; Mrs. Agnes Harings and Miss Clara Walker, normal school principals, and Miss Laura T. Bryson, private secretary to Mrs. Young.

Sumner, who is a member of the Chicago Board of Education, is pastor of the Episcopal Cathedral, which has the most exclusive congregation in Chicago. He is advocating the idea of a new national anthem to be selected by the school children of the United States, because, he declares, "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" are not accorded the reverence due them.

WANTS PRIZE OFFERED.

At the session of the National Educational Association next Tuesday morning he will ask the organization to endorse a movement to raise $10,000 which shall be offered through the school children as a prize to the composer of the song chosen by them as the national hymn.

The first Chicago National Education Association special carrying 250 educators, arrived over the Southern Pacific at the Oakland mole at 6 o'clock this morning. This afternoon a delegation of twenty-five arrived at the ferry station from St. Louis and on Saturday morning a delegation of twenty-five from Boston will arrive.

Mrs. Young, the president of the association, was met and welcomed at the Oakland mole yesterday afternoon by a sub-committee of the reception committee, including Miss Estelle Houghton, Mrs. M. J. Parolin, Miss Lena Agter and Mrs. M. E. McKown.

WILL ATTEND BANQUET.

Although somewhat indisposed from her long trip from Chicago, Mrs. Young is to attend the big banquet to be given in her honor tonight at the Scottish Rite hall, but will rest throughout the day in her apartments at the St. Francis.

Mrs. Young emphatically denied the statement that she would attempt to succeed herself as the next president of the N. E. A.

"I positively will not be a candidate for re-election," she said. "I have served nearly a term as president of the association and I am not going to attempt to succeed myself. I have made a final decision upon the matter, and I will not consent to allow my name to be used in connection with the nominations for the office of president of the National Educational Association at this convention."

She also denied knowing anything as to who would be the candidate for the democratic faction of the association, whose leader she is.

THORNTON SCORES RECIPROCITY BILL

Declares Democratic Committee Did Wrong in Framing the Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The only plausible meritorious claim for the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill was withdrawn by President Taft at his recent address in Indianapolis, when he said the bill would not diminish the cost of living, declared Senator Thornton of Louisiana, a Democrat, today, in addressing the Senate.

Senator Thornton said the farmers of the country should not be "bought" by the enactment of the bill; that the bill was not a democratic measure, and that therefore he felt free to carry out his pledges to the people of Louisiana in voting against it, even if he did not follow his party in the Senate in so doing.

"It could never have been framed, by any democratic committee," declared Senator Thornton, "for no bill that combines free trade for agriculturists with protection for manufacturers could possibly be democratic."

He contended that the bill violated the great democratic principle of equality, but admitted that it would be enacted by law. Senator Thornton advocated the reduction of duties on shoes and woolen fabrics.

FURS WORTH $250 STOLEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The store of P. K. Fingole of 1343 Union street, was broken into by burglars during the night, and furs, valued at $250, stolen.

M'NAMARAS EYED BY THORNG

Great Crowd Bursts Through Barrier at Accused Dynamiters' Trial

Many Days Will Be Consumed Testing Validity of Murder Charges

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—Two hours before the arguments were resumed today upon the validity of the murder and dynamiting charges against the McNamara brothers, the courtroom was crowded with men and women. When court was convened an overflow crowd in the corridors of the county building broke through barriers before the courtroom door in their eagerness to get a glimpse of the accused labor leader and his brother as they marched into court handcuffed to the Sheriff's deputies.

All of the counsel for the defense—Attorneys Darrow, Scott, Davies, McNutt and Harriman—were in court with the prisoners, and although they expressed the hope that Judge Walter Bordwell would be able to decide upon the merits of John J. McNamara's plea, that the court had no jurisdiction to try him for the nine-teen murders charged against him, the arguments lengthened out to such a degree that there was small prospect of a decision this week.

The argument was a continuation of the defense's contention of yesterday that if John J. McNamara were extradited from Indiana on the charge of dynamiting it was illegal to try him for murder.

The prosecution asserted that so far as a trial for murder was concerned, it made no difference how the man was brought here nor upon what accusation he was extradited. Additional authorities on both sides were scheduled to be cited today.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The manner of the arrest of the McNamara brothers and others connected with the destruction of the Los Angeles building will form tomorrow the subject of representations to the Senate "third degree" committee. The speakers will be President Gompers and other officers of the American Federation of Labor, and it is understood they will urge legislation preventing so-called "kidnaping" methods in the extradition of suspected persons.

BRANDS ACTION NOVEL.

Lecompte Davis and Clarence S. Darrow, representing the McNamara brothers and others connected with the destruction of the Los Angeles building, carried on the arguments for the defense in support of a plea of no jurisdiction. Davis said that the action was a novel one, and that though he had searched many decisions he could not find another case parallel with the one at bar.

"I have tried by men who are themselves law-breakers," Davis queried. "The prosecutors come not with clean hands—they themselves are guilty of a crime, which the accused man was extradited."

Darrow asserted that the court had been imposed upon in the matter—that fraud had been practiced upon the court by the bringing of McNamara here upon what he charged was a fraudulent statement. He averred that McNamara was entitled to be sent back to Indiana and that Judge Walter Bordwell, to whom he was making his appeal, ought not to take charge of the case because of the fraud which Davis said had been practiced upon the court.

OBJECTIONS DENIED.

W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney, objected to the defense's plea in jurisdiction, saying that his office objected upon the ground that even if the statements it contained were true they were not sufficient to prove lack of jurisdiction. He declared that no evidence had been offered in support of the affidavits filed and much of the statements sworn to in the affidavits were merely conclusions. Darrow followed Davis making his first remarks of any length, so far as courtroom speeches were concerned, since his arrival in Los Angeles. His arguments were along the same line as those of his associates, being closely phrased. He declared that all the decisions regarding extradition he had examined dealt with not a single case analogous to that of McNamara. He asserted that before the prosecution brought McNamara here, both the governor of California and the governor of Indiana had been deceived by the prosecution. A grand jury in one state might indict a man in another, he asserted, but could not extradite.

DEMANDS REDRESS.

"Must a man stay here and die because wrong has been perpetrated upon him? Do the courts here give no redress?" he demanded.

Darrow said that with the conclusion of his arguments the defense closed its contentions on its plea that the California tribunals had no jurisdiction.

The prosecution also had finished. That left the case in Judge Bordwell's hands for a ruling as nothing further could be done in the action against John J. McNamara until a decision had been made as to the rights of the courts of this state.

The judge has the authority to take the case under advisement if he does not care to render an immediate ruling. In case he takes the matter under advisement it is expected that the defense will follow up the motion to quash the indictments against James E. McNamara, brother and alleged fellow conspirator of John J. McNamara.

WATER IS SCARCE.

BERKELEY, July 7.—Benjamin Courant, who conducts a department store in San Pablo avenue, and other residents of this city in the vicinity of Russell have complained to the city authorities of the scarcity of water for the last week.

Superintendent C. D. Maloney of the water company explained that the removal of a water tower in Burnett street had caused the trouble, which would be rectified.

GIVES LECTURE ON CHILD WELFARE

Anna Louise Strong Tells of Fight Made to Save the Babies.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 7.—If any one stayed away from Dr. Anna Louise Strong's lecture at Hearst Hall last evening because he thought a university lecture would be uninteresting, he made a mistake. The city's fight for the health of the children was vividly pictured on the screen. Views were shown, as on Wednesday night, of the child welfare exhibit in Chicago, and of the work of the doctors and nurses in the homes in preparing for the new baby and in caring for it upon its arrival.

Babies were very much in evidence. Kicking, squirming, crying, laughing babies in arms, babies being weighed on the scales, and babies dressed in undresses and nurses. Some of the striking statements made by the lecturer or which were portrayed upon the screen were these:

"One baby out of four drops into the grave before reaching the age of one year. Seventy per cent of the deaths of infants could be prevented.

"Out of every 100 children, 24 die, when the mother is a sober woman, 35 to 2 when the mother drinks. The larger proportion die among the later children of drinking mothers."

"We have studied for centuries the way to improve plants and animals by breeding, only recently how to improve the human species.

"There are about thirty-four thousand needless blind people in the United States. The time to think of the eyes of the child is before it has had time to become blind. The common towel spreader blindness. The common drinking cup is the cup of death."

"The unclean for human mouth is the prize bait of the garden of the world. The mouth is the chief gateway of disease."

"The importance of living in the open is how many mothers should dress their children for sleeping out of doors was shown on the screen. Other pictures showed the method of teaching the dumb to speak, the treatment of fractures and bruises, the restoration of the drowned, the proper way of guarding the milk supply of a large city, the work of institutional church and of industrial schools."

The subject of this evening's lecture, which will be the last in the series, is "Social Settlement Work." The entertainment begins about eight o'clock.

NAMES NEGRESS AS HIS ASSAILANT

Robt. Campbell Declares That He Was Shot by Anna Jordan.

Anna Jordan, a negress, was arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith this morning, on a charge of having shot Robert Campbell, a negro porter, with intent to commit murder. The case was put over to tomorrow morning to be set.

Campbell was shot down Saturday night near his residence at Thirty-fourth and Chestnut streets. At first it was thought that his wounds would prove fatal, but while believing that he would die, Campbell declined to make a statement that would implicate the woman. Yesterday he was told that he would recover, and he consented to swear out an arrant charging Anna Jordan, a former friend of his, with the shooting.

Campbell explains that the woman, angered because he had not continued his attentions to her, waited for him Saturday night. As he neared his home, she allegedly had stepped out from behind a tree, revolver in hand.

"Now I've got you," she said, and fired pointblank at his head. He fell with a bullet wound in his head, and she fired twice at him after he had fallen, according to his story to Inspector Richard McSorley. While in a half unconscious state shortly after the shooting, Campbell identified another negro as his assailant, but the man subsequently proved an alibi and was released.

Anna Jordan was represented in court this morning by J. Sledge, an attorney.

But She Is Glad Daughter Wed Jockey

"All's well that ends well," quoted Mrs. M. Racer of 1190 Thirtieth street today in discussing the reported marriage of her 17-year-old daughter, Frances Rachael, to Jockey Eddie Martin at Cincinnati yesterday.

"And if they did have some difficulties preceding the ceremony," she continued, "I guess they are happy now. I only wish that I had them both here at the present moment, I would give them a good spanking for all the worry that they have caused me. Trouble? Why, I cannot imagine that they had any, for they were very much attached to one another, and if anyone objected, I do not think it would have made any difference."

That she had received a message from Martin stating that they had been married and would send further particulars in a few days, Mrs. Racer affirmed, adding that she had known there would be a delay she would not have let her daughter go so far to be wed.

RIDING AT LATONIA.

Jockey Martin, well known here as one of the prominent riders at the Emeryville racetrack in past seasons, is at present under engagement to Jack Weaver, and is riding at the Latonia track. Miss Racer left here several days ago to meet her fiancé, and according to dispatches received from the East yesterday Manager Weaver had objected to his boy taking any further contracts, particularly in the matrimonial line. Miss Racer then appealed to Chief of Police Jackson of Cincinnati, declaring that she had the written consent of her mother to the match and that Weaver should be given no say whatever.

Miss Racer appealed with words and then with sobs, it is said, to the extent that the ire of the chief was so aroused that he caused an investigation by his detectives, while in the meantime the would-be bride was taken to the Y. W. C. A. pending the outcome. The consent of Weaver was finally obtained, as evidenced in the dispatch to the mother of the bride. Further particulars regarding the ceremony are lacking at this time, but Mrs. Racer stated that the young couple would visit here after the season closed at Latonia, or sometime early in the fall.

EDDIE A "NICE BOY."

In the Thirtieth street home Martin already occupies a position of prominence, his picture, in costume and various poses, as well as in action on some of the fastest racers that ever appeared at Emeryville, being displayed in conspicuous places.

"Eddie is a nice boy," declared the mother, "and we have known him for some time. My daughter met him while he was at Emeryville, and he often called here. There were no objections to the match on our part, and besides, if there were, Frances is of age, and could have known that there would be any difficulty at the other end, I would have opposed her going so far to be married."

COUPLED CARS TO BE SUBJECT TO INQUIRY

Mayor Mott Orders Evidence to Be Gathered On Twelfth Street Matter

RIGHTS OF CITY IS TO BE DETERMINED

Attorneys Will See if Provisions of Ordinance Are Infringed.

Evidence will be gathered at the instance of Mayor Frank K. Mott, to be used by the City Attorney's office in handling the matter of the Oakland Traction Company operating a service of coupled cars on Twelfth street, connecting with the Key Route. When the evidence is in Mayor Mott will decide whether in his opinion the law and the provisions of the ordinance are being infringed on Twelfth street, and should he so decide, City Attorney Woolner will be directed to commence injunction proceedings against the railroad.

CONFUSION EXISTS.

Confusion as to whether the street railway franchise held by the Oakland Traction Company permits the coupling of cars exists in the law, and the matter has never been determined by a California court of higher jurisdiction, according to Assistant City Attorney Charles Beardsley. The matter has been under investigation by the City Attorney's office, and so far the City Attorney has been unable to find anything in the laws of California that would make the coupling of cars illegal.

"The matter of the coupling of the cars might become a nuisance to the property owners and residents of the district, but in that case it would fall upon the people to stop it, find their recourse in the courts," said Beardsley.

The question of stopping at all crossings is another matter which has not been determined in any definite manner by the courts," explained City Attorney Woolner. "There is not a question of doubt that the terms of such a franchise demand local service, but whether local service involves stopping at all crossings is another matter."

DEFERS ACTION.

"I have taken this matter up with the protestants and their attorney, but as the attorney has gone away to the country for two weeks, I have deferred action till his return at his request. In the meanwhile I had directed the protestants to gather evidence as to the operation of the cars, especially as to the refusal to stop at crossings and to attend to the local service."

"The question of relations with public service corporations is placed in the hands of the mayor by the new charter, and I would suggest that the mayor direct that evidence be obtained as to whether the car company is complying with the provisions of its ordinance franchise. Then we can proceed by injunction or suit, or by any other advisable method."

Mayor Mott stated that he would explain to the protestants against the service in Twelfth street that the matter was receiving the earnest attention of the city administration.

The City Commission Hobbled.

Oakland adopted the commission form of government to simplify and expedite administration, also a new charter ostensibly framed to bring the management of municipal affairs into accord with business principles. But at the outset the commission has encountered one of those queer obstacles to expedition and business operation that theorists are so fond of injecting into the law. Having got ready to let some contracts for needed public works, the commission is confronted with a provision of the charter which prohibits the letting of contracts for expenditures of this character unless the Auditor has certified that the money to pay for the same is already in the treasury. As the money is not in hand, although forthcoming in the tax levy, the hands of the commissioners are apparently tied for the present. Unless some way can be found to get around the obstacle—evade the provision of the charter, in fact—all public improvements will have to be delayed until the cash has actually been paid into the city treasury.

It is a pretty pass. But the strange thing is that the barrier to business administration was not discovered until the commissioners ran squarely up against it. Why it was not pointed out while the charter was still under consideration by the Freeholders is extraordinary. It was generally supposed that the officials at the city hall were keeping in close touch with the charter makers, and offering suggestions in regard to clauses affecting the details of administration. Yet this most vital proposition was apparently overlooked. Hence the commission has run upon a snag that promises to give much trouble until it is eliminated.

At the beginning of each fiscal year the amount of revenue at the disposal of the municipal government can be reasonably estimated. Works are planned and appropriations are made on the basis of the estimated income, allowance being made for shrinkage and for such extraordinary demands as may occur. Contracts are let and work put in progress while the money to pay therefor is in process of collection. That has been the method pursued heretofore. It is in accordance with business principles and avoids unnecessary delays in making public improvements. Nothing is gained in efficiency or economy by waiting till the revenue is finally collected before going on with public work which has been decided upon and is deemed necessary and within the financial ability of the municipality.

But a provision was inserted in the charter apparently to prevent that very thing. If it was not intended as such it is difficult to conceive why it was drafted and made a part of the charter. It is nothing more than an obstacle. It has put the commission in a hobble skirt when the object, as was generally understood, was to give the commissioners freedom from restrictions in handling the public business and prosecuting work on projected improvements. The hobble nullifies the avowed intent of the charter and imposes a senseless embarrassment in the ordinary administration of civic affairs. It is a glittering example of spoiling a good intention by doing something directly contrary to the object sought.

There will be no shortage in the State Treasury by reason of the change in the tax laws. Although the appropriations made by the last Legislature for the present biennial period are about $2,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for the previous period, the corporation tax returns indicate a surplus above expenditures. How the municipalities are going to fare under the new arrangement has not yet been determined, but from all the information obtainable they will be benefited rather than injured. In many of the counties there will be reductions in the tax rate because of the exemption of real property from assessment for State purposes.

The Dublin Canyon Road.

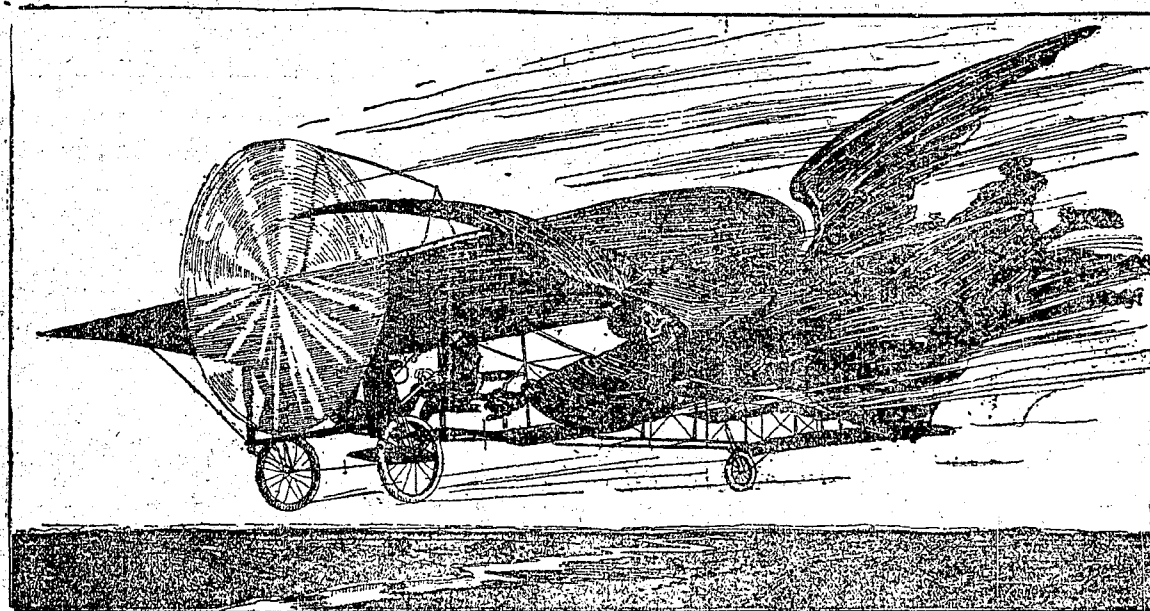

The Board of Supervisors has decided to build a modern highway from Hayward into the Livermore valley along the route of the old stage road through Dublin canyon. Such a highway is badly needed and the Supervisors are to be commended for deciding to build one. This road will open up to direct communication a valuable trade territory in Southeastern Contra Costa county and provide the residents of Amador valley with a transportation route they sorely need. In former days the Dublin canyon road was the main highway between Oakland and the Livermore and San Joaquin valleys. It is the shortest route and traverses a picturesque region. When the new road is completed the Dublin canyon route will again be the main highway for automobiles and other wheeled vehicles. It will afford a short cut by an easy grade into the rich farming section lying at the base of Mount Diablo, and will form a link in the main highway that is planned between this city and Stockton, via Pleasanton and Livermore. It will give motorists an alternative route into the Livermore valley, the Niles canyon road being the other. But of all the roads leading into the Livermore valley the Dublin canyon road is the most useful and promises more material advantages to the business men of Oakland. It will bring trade and travel into this city, and will add to the attractions of Alameda county for visiting motorists.

As to Senator Works' eulogy of Christian Science there will be differences of opinion; it is a matter, at any rate, that concerns the individual conscience and judgment more than it does public policy; nevertheless the Senator is right in protesting against the domination of a department of public health by any single school of medicine. The effort to create a government department of health is evidently prompted by a desire to place a certain school of medical practitioners in control of all healing activities. One does not have to be a Christian Scientist to discern the unwisdom of doing such a thing.

Culture in Colleges.

President Wheeler favors a system of university training with culture rather than vocation for its object. He thinks there should not be too much professionalism in student life, hence he protests against educating young men and young women mainly to make money. But he forgets that the vast majority of students in American colleges and universities are taking courses in so-called higher education to fit themselves for some vocation in life. At the university they are learning how to do things that will enable them to make money. Of professional scholarship we already have an abundance. Of dilettante scholarship too much of a frippery kind. But of culture in the broader and higher sense altogether, too little. Genuine culture gives its first and best evidence in manners, demeanor and usages in general intercourse. Among college students (and Berkeley is no exception) there is an enormous amount of rudeness and even bad manners. On street cars in particular is there a constant exhibition of crass bumpiousness, of disregard for the nice conventions in the treatment of strange women, of flippant impudence in general. Manners do not make the man, but they frequently indicate the man's character. Every youth who goes to college may not become a scholar nor even proficient in a professional course, but he can surely be a gentleman—he can acquire the kind of culture that teaches him to be polite and deferential to women and courteous to strangers, considerate of others and observant of the small distinctions which distinguish the man of breeding and chivalrous instincts from the selfish boor who rudely seeks to please himself, no matter how much discomfort he inflicts on others. The standard of culture cannot be high where university students crowd women on cars, swear in the presence of women, and even make indecent allusions within their hearing, and act like rowdies in public places. If President Wheeler can disabuse some of the young men at Berkeley of the notion that a college student has a license to conduct himself in a blackguardly manner he will impart a great lesson in culture. It is a lesson that is not sufficiently impressed, at any rate many have failed to learn it.

—THE CHICAGO BLADE.

Cummins Versus Cummins.

Demagogues should have good memories. Senator Cummins is finding this out to his discomfort if not his sorrow. He is now opposing reciprocity with Canada with all his might. It will ruin the farmers of Iowa, he says. There was a time when he did not hold to this view. Not so many years ago he professed to believe that reciprocity with Canada would be an excellent thing for the people of the United States, and was quite confident that it would not injure the farmers of Iowa. That was as late as 1904. Here is what he said in that year:

"Which would you rather do, lose the markets that will be created by vast imports into Canada or meet Canada in competition in the things you produce? I assert confidently that in the sharp struggle with Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri you would never be able to discern the influence of Canada in corn, wheat, oats, barley, hay, cattle, horses, hogs, butter and eggs."

Just what has caused Senator Cummins to change his mind has not yet been explained, but what he said in 1904 is as true today as it was when uttered. Iowa produces more corn than all the Dominion of Canada. Corn is the staple feed of beef cattle and hogs, and cattle and hogs are the chief market products of Iowa. Corn, cattle and swine have made the farmers of Iowa rich and the farms of that State enormously valuable. Yet Senator Cummins pretends to believe that competition with Canada will be disastrous to the agriculturists of the Hawkeye State.

Iowa can stand competition with Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, but not with Canada, so Mr. Cummins says. His contention is ridiculous of course, but why does he set it up? Why has he reversed his position on reciprocity? He seems to feel that he must oppose the President, and in this instance opposing the President drives him to repudiate his former utterance and set up an absurd pretense to justify his course. Yet Senator Cummins is credited with Presidential aspirations. Perhaps that is the trouble.

OUT OF MOUTHS OF BABES

A short time ago a woman and two men were arrested in Maine upon a charge of murder. Suspicion had been excited against them by the statements of two little girls, daughters of the woman. One of them is six years old, the other nine. They told a wonderful, extraordinary story of how a man had come to their house, how two other men came afterward, how the first comer had been killed and his body buried in the woods.

The man said to have been killed had disappeared from the neighborhood about the time fixed by the children, and that fact to some extent confirmed the story. Arrests were made. Search was undertaken for the buried body, but none was found. Still the prisoners were held. Then one day came information that the man supposed to have been slain was in Canada, safe and sound. The whole story was a child's romance.

The incident is a new refutation of the popular belief that fools, children and drunkards tell the truth. The lips of babes are supposed to be the lips of innocence. Because a child can have no self-interest in a lie, it is assumed he never lies. Many a neighborhood or family quarrel has been maintained by a blind faith that the babble of children must be true; that some ugly story they tell could not have been invented by them.

Children make romances as easily as they sing melodies of their own. Nearly half their life is make-believe. Sometimes they mingle real persons with their tales by the same instinct that prompted Koko to put the name of Nanki-Pooch into his report to the Mikado of persons exposed to the wish to give verisimilitude to the narrative. Then they make trouble. —New York World.

OPTOMISTIC MR. HAMMERSTEIN

They predict unpleasant things for that operatic optimist, Mr. Oscar Hammerstein, in London. Mr. Hammerstein, who lived and had his being in New York long enough to know better, seems to forget that the Londoner merely tolerates opera. His forgetfulness is such that his opera house goes on as much as peace as the British workman will speed it. This is not a great deal from the American building viewpoint, but the hopeful Oscar already has learned to go out in the street and whistle when he feels inclined to curse. Experience may have taught him, or else intuition has, that just as much is accomplished by whistling around the corner as cursing on the spot. Rather more; the workmen do not hear the whistling, and they would object to the cursing.

But Oscar, optimistic soul, is running full tilt into ancient British traditions, and his friends wish him well and fear for the worst. He ignores the fact that opera has been regarded generally in Britain as "foreign." As Hammerstein it has been entitled to a certain circumspect season at Covent Garden, as a means of filling in the time between somebody's dinner and somebody's supper. A person named Wagner wrote certain things, and certain other persons, well, say Debussy, or Massenet, or Puccini, or even Verdi, wrote certain other things, and they fill in a gap between dinner and supper at certain times, but it's all a foreign notion and a little of it goes a long way.

This, of course, is not universally true, but competent observers say that it is true enough to put Mr. Hammerstein in the position of a gentleman walking over an operatic quicksand. —Chicago Tribune.

ABSENT-MINDED.

"What made you mutilate this handsome new book?" asked the physician's wife. "The first thing you did was to cut out a portion of it and throw it away!"

"Excuse me, my dear," was the regretful answer. "It was professional instinct. The portion you refer to was labeled 'appendix.'" —Washington Star.

AN ORACLE

At a Newark dollar dinner, that form of entertainment so long associated with an earlier apostle of the popular, the Hon. Woodrow Wilson, dropped these among many crumbs of mysterious wisdom:

"The facts of our industrial life are becoming plainer and plainer, the responsibilities are being disclosed more and more clearly, and some of the things which it will be necessary to do in order to open again the gates of opportunity, in order to distribute credit in such a way as to vitalize the whole industrial process, in order to bring about those readjustments without which friction and danger will daily increase, are becoming every year more obvious to the people who think, not like children, but like men, who are not afraid of their own thinking, and who are ready to act when they see what is to be done. Those who fear are those who do not understand, and only those who are in danger will not heartily and honestly and disinterestedly co-operate."

What is the meaning, if it has any, of this skilful skamble stuff? Those who fear are those who do not understand; and who understands this sleek and slippery patter? It is not even fine heroic flubdub, like "He that dares is a dastard, and he that doubts is damned." No, there is a smell of truth all to it; something of the fat flavor of the Rev. Mr. Chadband's style. —New York Sun.

MEN AND WOMEN

They are telling this story about an Adelbert professor who prides himself on the correctness of his English. ("They," let it be noted, refers to certain Western Reserve University students, and they are telling it in whispers. But the murder of the king's speech will out.)

"My dear," said this professor's wife a few mornings ago, "can't I give you a fresh cup of coffee?"

"You doubtless mean a cup of fresh coffee," corrected the professor. "Pardon me, my dear, but these vulgar errors in rhetoric are easily corrected if we give attention to them. Thank you—the coffee is excellent. By the way, my dear, that picture on the east wall would show to better advantage if you'd hang it over the clock."

"Ah," replied Mrs. Professor quietly. "You doubtless mean if I were to hang it above the clock. Of course you know that if I were to hang it over the clock we should not be able to tell the time."

As it is, I can see that you have only three minutes in which to finish your coffee and get to your rhetoric class." —Cleveland Plain Talk.

PEGASUS AS PARTY HACK

"Lest we forget" that Kipling was once a poet, the following stanza from his effusion on "The Declaration of London" is useful as a reminder by contract with what was:

Wait till the money goes!
Wait till the visions fade!
We may betray in time, God knows;
But we would not have it said,
When you make report to our scornful foes,
That we kissed as we betrayed.

"Wait till the money goes" is a good campaign slogan and the four metrical lines containing the admonition against kissing and betraying would make excellent prose with the capitals knocked down. But the verse illustrates the difficulty of adapting the divine afflatus to the uses of opposition politics. This is making a party hack of Pegasus, with the result that the poem renders Alfred Austin's verse lyrical by comparison.

A poet capable of Kipling's high flights should devote his pen to more elevated themes. What he might have written on the coronation in the free play of his fancy we may infer from what he wrote of "the price of admiralty" and are left to regret the motives of politics or prudence or whatever they were that restrained his hand. —New York World.

THE FACETIOUS BOUNDERBY.

The real estate agent had been rehearsing the virtues of the summer cottage.

"The house is a stone's throw from the trolley," he said, in conclusion.

"That's good," said Bounderby. "It will give us something to do summer evenings."

"I beg your pardon?" said the agent somewhat mystified.

"I say it will give us something to do summer evenings," said Bounderby. "We can sit in the house and throw stones at the trolley." —Harper's Weekly.

A NAVAL BOARD TO STUDY HULL OF MAINE

U. S. Expert Will Determine Direction of the Fatal Explosion.

BIXBY DENIES HE HAS GIVEN VIEWS

Rear-Admiral Melville Certain Ship Was Blown Up From Within.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A board of naval officers, experts in explosives, is being selected by the navy department to study the hull of the battleship Maine, in Havana harbor, as the water is pumped from the cofferdam now surrounding the wreck.

Because of the necessarily slow progress of the work, weeks probably will elapse before the experts will be able to inspect the hull of the former warship, but the board will go to Havana as soon as its personnel is made known and will remain with the work until it is finished.

The navy department officers are confident that the examination will prove the correctness of the Sampson board, which decided that the explosion which sunk the Maine was caused by a torpedo or mine, and that the explosion of the ship's magazines followed.

BIXBY'S VIEWS.

In view of the renewed interest attaching to the actual cause of the destruction of the Maine, General Bixby, chief of engineers, who has just returned from Havana today issued the following signed statement:

"The work of unwatering the Maine so far proves nothing as to the origin of the explosion of the magazines, but already shows such extensive destruction of the forward part of the boat that it is quite probable that fuller unwatering will fail to give any proofs, either way, as to the origin of such explosions. I have so far made no reports or statements as to the origin of the explosion."

BY OWN MAGAZINES.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Rear Admiral George F. Melville, retired, U. S. N., says that he believes the former battleship Maine was blown up by one of her own magazines. "I have always maintained that the Maine was destroyed from within and said today."

He said that the examination of the ship in Havana harbor would prove that the explosion occurred within her. One of her powder magazines was situated between the two coal bunker heads and one of the shell rooms also was nearby. "The coal taking fire probably heated the shells in the shell room and caused the explosion of one of the magazines."

PIONEER LAWYER OF STATE DEAD

Judge Campbell Passes Away After Illness of Several Weeks.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—After an illness of several weeks, former Judge Alexander Campbell, 91 years old, one of the oldest lawyers in the city, and probably in the State, died here yesterday.

Mr. Campbell came to California in 1841, taking up his residence in San Francisco. He practiced law in the northern city for several years and in 1851 he became district judge of San Francisco county.

In 1871 Mr. Campbell was a member of the second constitutional convention of California, and as chairman of the judiciary committee took a prominent part in framing the laws of the State.

Judge Campbell came to Los Angeles in 1886 with his family. He entered the law firm of Houghton & Silent, remaining in partnership with this firm until about ten years ago, when he suffered severe injuries in falling from a car and retired from active practice.

He was one of the charter members of the California Club of this city and one of the organizers of the Bohemian and Pacific Union Clubs of San Francisco. Besides the widow, Mrs. R. E. Campbell, one son, John B. T. Campbell, city editor of the Los Angeles Herald, survives.

FISTS SHAKEN IN HOUSE COMMITTEE

Scene a-la Camorra Trial Enlivens Meeting in City of Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A scene, suggesting some that have occurred in the Camorra trial in Italy, enlivened the proceedings of the House committee on expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor, investigating the charge that the once great seal herd of the Privy Islands is being wantonly slaughtered by agents of the United States government.

Prof. Henry W. Elliott, fur seal expert, and United States Commissioner Bowers, who have been in controversy about the seals, confronted each other before the committee, shook their fists and exchanged a series of lively epithets. Professor Elliott concluding the reading of a statement, declared that United States Fish Commissioner Bowers had perjured himself before this committee.

"You are a self-confessed perjurer yourself," retorted Bowers, adding that he could prove the charge.

"That is a rubbishy, rotten charge that no man ever dared put his name to," Professor Elliott responded, shaking his fist in the direction of Bowers. "I'll get you on the witness stand for that statement."

"Yes, and I'll prove the charge, too, when you do," Bowers replied vehemently.

Presiding Representative Rothermel of Pennsylvania, a quaker, suspended the sitting.

AUTO TANK EXPLODES, KILLING GIRL, INJURING 4

Miss Myrnie Kelly Dead, Father, Sister and Brothers Burned in Terrible Accident

GRANT'S PASS, Ore., July 7.—Miss Myrnie Kelly, the daughter of J. B. Kelly, president of the Motor Car service of San Francisco, is dead; her sister, Angela, is seriously, if not fatally, hurt, and Kelly and his little sons, Robert, aged eight, and Homer, aged six, are badly burned, as the result of an explosion of the gasoline tank of their automobile near Crescent City Wednesday night.

Kelly and his children were returning from a visit in Portland to San Francisco by way of Crescent City. The road approaching Crescent City is very rough, there being deep ruts on either side, and high rocky hummocks between. A projection of this ridge struck the bottom of the car, a steamer, unearthing the machine, and left Kelly powerless to control it. It also tore the gasoline tank partly loose, leaving it hanging down from the rear axle.

FIRE BLOWN ON TANK.

The wind caused by the automobile's passage drove the fire back from the burners, igniting the leaking tank and causing it to explode. Flames enveloped the whole back part of the automobile.

Miss Myrnie, who, with her little brother, was sitting in the rear seat, had not a chance. She was burned where she sat. Robert and Homer, because of their shorter stature, were protected by the sides of the car and escaped the full blast of the fire.

GIRL JUMPS FROM CAR.

Angela, who was sitting in front with her father, in her excitement jumped from the car. Her foot caught and threw her directly in front of the machine. She escaped the front wheels, but rolled so that one of the rear wheels passed over her body.

In addition to severe burns from the flaming gasoline, she received dangerous internal injuries.

Kelly and the boys escaped with painful burns about the head. The victims were brought back to Grant's Pass today, where Miss Myrnie died early this afternoon.

Miss Angela, who is a student at the University of California, should she survive, will be designated for life.

MOTHER STARTS NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—News of the accident was conveyed to Mrs. Kelly at her home, 845 Haight street, last night by a telegram from her husband, in time to permit the grief-stricken mother to leave for the north on the Shasta Limited.

The death of Myrnie and the injuries of her sister and brother mark a pleasure trip that John B. Kelly had planned months ahead for his children.

Leaving Mrs. Kelly home to care for their seven-month-old child, Kelly, his two daughters and two younger sons started north in his automobile on June 18, it having been planned that the overland trip should be made leisurely so that the vacation of the children should be as enjoyable as possible.

Mrs. Kelly received daily reports from the north-bound travelers, who encountered no mishaps until the fateful one of Wednesday.

The Misses Kelly are well known in this city, especially Miss Angela, who is 18 years of age and a student at the University of California. With her sister Myrnie, who was 15 years of age, she attended the public schools of San Francisco. Myrnie was a pupil of the Hearst grammar school.

Kelly's garage is located at 1400 Market street.

LIGNITE SOLVES FUEL PROBLEM

Government Expert Turns Out Briquettes of Value to the West.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—In briquettes of lignite, the government Bureau of Mines believes it has developed a fuel supply that will be of immense value to the West, where high grade coal can be obtained only at excessive cost. A powerful machine brought from Germany has solved the difficulty which heretofore has limited the manufacture of briquettes, the cost of the pitch necessary to hold the coal dust together.

The lignite is a poor form of brown colored coal found in great abundance in North and South Dakota, Montana, Texas and other Western States. Its tendency to slack soon after being mined makes it troublesome to transport, and it does not burn readily on account of the presence of between 80 and 40 per cent of moisture.

The Bureau of Mines conducted experiments at Williston, N. D., and developed a furnace that would burn lignite satisfactorily. Now that the experiments have gone far enough to indicate that briquettes can be made successfully at low cost the bar to transportation of lignite seems to have been removed.

Charles L. Wright of the bureau estimates the cost of briquettes loaded at the mines at $2.51 a ton in Texas; $3.53 in North Dakota, and $5.24 in California.

WANTS POLICE TO FIND LOST DIAMOND RING

SAN RAFAEL, July 7.—Mrs. Charles L. Patton of San Francisco has complained to the Sheriff's office here that she has lost a diamond ring valued at $400 while occupying a cottage at Corte Madera about two months ago, and asked Sheriff Charles A. Redding to try to recover it.

Mrs. Patton said that she had made no complaint before for the reason that she had expected the ring to be returned without recourse to the authorities. She said that she had laid the ring with some other jewelry on the window sill of the bathroom in the cottage where she was staying, and on returning to the room later she missed the ring, although the other jewels remained where she had put them.

Under Sheriff Redding has begun an investigation that may lead to the recovery of the ring within a few days.

Mrs. Patton resides at 518 Hyde street, San Francisco.

CONFESS THEFT OF MAIL POUCH

Mail Clerk Clears Up Mystery Surrounding Ferry Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The mysterious disappearance of a registered mail pouch from the ferry boat Berkeley, on the night of December 24, 1910, and of three registered packages, valued at several hundred dollars, was cleared up when Alfred T. Moss, former railway mail clerk on duty at the ferry station, confessed before United States District Judge J. J. de Haven to having committed the thefts.

Moss was indicted recently by the federal grand jury for taking 15 cents from a registered letter addressed to a New York fashion company. Yesterday he was taken before Judge de Haven, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the Alameda county jail.

According to the confession, Moss picked up the registered mail pouch and hid it after it had fallen from one of the trucks while being carried ashore from the ferry boat on this side of the bay. Afterward the sack was cut open and much jewelry taken out. This, together with many of the valuable contents in the three registered packages stolen subsequently, found its way, according to the postal inspectors, to the hands of an affinity in Los Angeles. Most of the stolen property has been recovered.

By the recovery of the missing articles three mail clerks, whose names the inspectors refuse to give out, were made happy because the packages were in their custody and they have had to pay for the stolen articles. It is their intention to call upon Moss' bondsmen to make good the amounts they had to pay.

YOEMAN TESTIFIES

IN THE FULLER CASE

MARE ISLAND, July 7.—The second day's session yesterday of the court-martial trial of Pay Clerk James Fuller was occupied with the taking of testimony of Pay Yeoman H. Heilpern of the receiving ship Independence, who was also on the stand on the opening day. Attorney Frank Devlin, Fuller's counsel, objected to the use of a memorandum book by Heilpern when he testified as to dates upon which he paid

Fuller sums of money. Devlin's objection was overruled. Coal Passers Murphy and Hatfield were also called to the stand.

LONDON REPORT SHOWS DECREASE IN IMPORTS

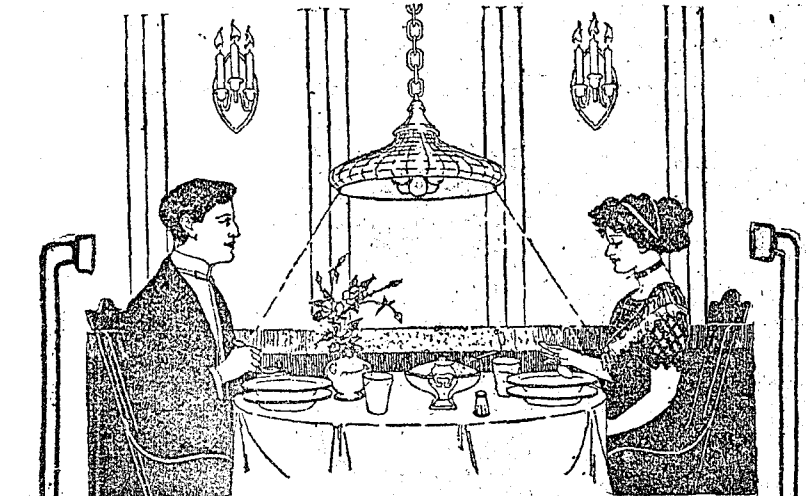

LONDON, July 7.—The Board of Trade returns for the month of June show a decrease in imports of $17,619,500, mostly raw material, of which $15,000,000 represented oils and rubbers. The exports increased $6,587,500, principally cotton textiles.

MARINE CORPS TO BE REORGANIZED

MARE ISLAND, July 7.—The marine corps will be organized into permanent companies like the coast artillery, according to reports received here from Washington. The corps will be divided into two classes, one to consist of companies, each with approximately 100 enlisted men, and the other of a barracks detachment. Under this plan four companies will be organized at Mare Island this summer.

In other words, this money is used in the actual purchase of more property or in the permanent development and improvement of our present holdings.

The business of The Realty Syndicate, in fact, stands in striking contrast to all forms of speculative enterprises.

By combining the capital of thousands of certificate holders, with the $5,750,000 capital and surplus of the corporation, we are able to continually purchase and improve large tracts of land and place upon the market the finished product in the form of residential lots and homes ready to meet the rushing tide of business and residential needs.

No other business provides more absolute protection to its investors, and no other business yields greater returns for the money invested.

Real estate is recognized as the one safe security—and those who know agree that the greatest profits in real estate come from the development of acreage into city lots—a task no individual can attempt upon any great scale.

Therefore, in offering our 6% Investment Certificates, we offer in addition to the usual security three potent advantages not usually found in the investment market:

- 1st. Real estate comprises the bulk of our assets, the safest of all securities.
- 2nd. The very nature of our business absolutely insures an increase of assets because California land is bound to increase in value for the next 20 years at least.
- 3rd. Every dollar invested in our certificates increases our assets and your security just that much more.

We would, therefore, be pleased to correspond with all parties interested in making a safe, sane, satisfactory 6% investment. We pay interest, by check, semi-annually on the day it is due. You deal directly with the principals, who are responsible, established, successful people, comprising a great institution—The Realty Syndicate.

Are You a Neurasthenic?

subject to headaches or a feeling of pressure on the head, is sleepless and some times the digestion is disturbed. Overwork or excesses may cause the trouble.

The treatment consists largely in rest, recreation and the use of a tonic, the discontinuance of any practice that may have caused it and an abstinence from tea, coffee or other stimulants. As the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood the latter must be built up and made rich and pure. Especially if there is loss of weight and a pallor indicating a weakness of the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the tonic best adapted to effect a cure.

Mrs. Wm. C. Hull of 4912 Melrose avenue, Fruitvale, Cal., says: "For three years I was a nervous wreck and was confined to bed during all of that time. It is hard to describe my suffering. I was completely exhausted and had no strength. I felt as though I would never get well. I could not get much sleep and would cry a great deal. I was living in misery and was treated by three doctors. They gave me only temporary relief. I was completely discouraged until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. After a short trial I was surprised to find how much good they were doing me. I gained in flesh and strength and kept on improving until I was cured. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are my only doctor now and whenever I don't feel just well, I take a few doses of the pills and they always help me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as anaemia, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, neuralgia, nervous debility, and even St. Vitus' dance and locomotor ataxia.

If you are interested send today for our booklet, "Nervous Disorders, a Method of Home Treatment." It is free.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

40 AUTOISTS TO CROSS CONTINENT

Ten Cars Arrive at Chicago On the Way to Atlantic City.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Forty automobile-billants in ten cars arrived last night on their way from Atlantic City, N. J., to San Francisco. The party left Atlantic City on June 24 with the intention of taking a pleasure jaunt that will cover forty-seven days. At the end of that time they expect to arrive in San Francisco, from which city they will tour along the Pacific coast. Later they will return to New York by train.

The route from Chicago westward lies through Clinton, Des Moines, Omaha, Denver, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, Reno, Oakland and other cities. After leaving Omaha the tourists will camp out in army tents and will prepare their own meals. Accompanying a party is a car that has been converted into an imitation of an old prairie schooner of the days of '49. This car carried the tents, culinary department, repair outfits, etc.

PLAN SAFEGUARD FOR AUTO RACES

Experienced Drivers Are to Be Placed in Separate Class From Novices.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Manufacturers' Contest Association has prepared regulations by which experienced and novice automobile drivers will in the future be placed in different classes. This action follows closely the formation of an organization among racing drivers with a view to agitating for safer rules to govern contests.

"Such rules are absolutely necessary for the proper safeguarding of drivers," says S. W. Bunting, chairman of the A. A. A. contest board, "and I believe they will be adopted at the next meeting of the board. They are all ready for submission to that body. It is unfair to allow novices to contest in big fields."

"The classification will probably be made on experience. We are familiar with the careers of practically all registered drivers, and there will be no difficulty in assigning the various men to their proper divisions. Furthermore, it is the intention after this year to license drivers instead of registering them."

WORK'S DEFENSE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IS REMARKABLE

Senator From California Protests Against Department of Health Bill.

DECLARES WIFE AND SON WERE BOTH CURED

Says That He Was Near Death When Healed by Follower of Mrs. Eddy.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The defense of Christian Science made yesterday by Senator Works of California was one of the most remarkable personal statements ever made on the floor of the senate. He was invited to enter into an intimate account of family life, as a protest against the passage of a bill providing for a national department of public health. Works declared this bill was the creature of the American Medical Association, which is hostile to Christian Science.

The California senator said he had been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for a number of years. He told how he had suffered night and day, had lost thirty pounds, was unable to do a day's work; how he felt that he soon would have to give up all work and how he believed that death was near at hand.

ALL TREATMENTS FAIL.

He told of treatments by physicians of the home school, both homeopathic and osteopathic, the latter being convinced that one of his vertebrae was pressing on his spinal cord.

Declaring that he had no desire to criticize the physicians, he said that all had failed to cure him and that many had said that he was incurable.

"I had scoffed at the suggestion of Christian Science," he continued, "but I said that if everything else failed I would try that remedy. I did so. From the time that I took the first treatment I began to improve and that improvement was steady day by day for four months, when I could say that I was completely healed. I had come up day by day, just as I had gone down day by day before."

WIFE INVALID FIFTEEN YEARS.

Senator Works then told how his wife, who had been an invalid for fifteen years, had by his advice taken the Christian Science treatment and was cured in three treatments. He declared that for the last nine years she had been a comparatively healthy woman.

"But," he added, "the thing that seemed most to appeal to me was the fact that our son was healed of the drink habit after he had arrived at the age of manhood and after he had become so addicted to the habit that we nursed him like a child."

After one experience and a recovery from a long spell, he said to his mother, "I know what Christian Science has done for you and father. I have believed that I could cure myself of my own will. I find I cannot. He consented to have a Christian Science healer called and he was cured. He has not taken a drink for seven years."

DESIRE FOR DRINK CURED.

Senator Works said that his son had at one time stopped for eleven months but was always harassed by the thirst for liquor. Now the desire for drink has been destroyed and had not returned.

"Mr. President," said he, "this is the experience of one family. I fancy I hear senators saying, 'It is all a delusion.' But if it is, I hope the delusion will not be dispelled. It has brought health and hope and contentment into hundreds of families in this country. It is doing that work every day and is saving hundreds from suffering and from sin."

Turning then to the main part of his argument, Senator Works declared that Christian Science was not hostile to medicine, but that the American Medical Association had been for twenty years been seeking legislation that would shut out the healing of diseases by others than the regular school of medicine.

AGAINST POLITICAL ACTIVITY. He said he had no criticism to make of the legitimate work of the association and that his arguments were directed solely against its political activities.

Touching on articles recently published by Collier's magazine and reflecting on the League for Medical Freedom, Senator Works filed a mass of affidavits which he said "would show that the articles in Collier's are knowingly and maliciously false."

Senator Works protested strongly against the domination of a department of public health by any single school of medicine. He said that the power of the head of the department would be almost unlimited.

Senator Owens interrupted to say that his bill was drawn to prevent any discrimination among different schools of medicine.

HAYWARD DESIGNATED FOR U. S. POSTAL BANK

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Postmaster General Hitchcock yesterday issued an order establishing postal savings banks at Hayward, Imperial and Redondo Beach, Cal.

The banks have been so well patronized in California that Hitchcock has determined to place as many as possible in that state. Additions will be made from time to time from now on.

BICYCLIST STRUCK BY AUTO.

PALO ALTO, July 7.—While riding a bicycle at University avenue and Bryant street last evening, George Brookfield of this city was struck and hurt by an automobile driven at a high rate of speed by J. J. Morris, a local real estate man. Brookfield was picked up unconscious, with several bad cuts in his forehead and many severe bruises. His injuries are not fatal.

ESCAPED WITH HIS LIFE.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrison, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great cure and lung cure. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Orscoff Bros."

ROUT BANDITS WHO LOOTED SHIP ASIA

Much of Goods Stolen From Vessel Found Hidden in the Rocks.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—The story of a successful fight with the pirates who looted the wreck of the Pacific Mail liner Asia and the recovery of much stolen silk, was brought by the steamer Proteus.

The agent of the Pacific Mail line was given the use of a small Chinese warship and a complement of officers and the expedition went in search of the pirates. When the gunboat approached the retreat of the looters the pirates put out and began an attack. A volley from the soldiers killed several of the pirates and the battle soon ended with the flight of the brigands. They were pursued and their retreats uncovered where much of the stolen silk and electrical equipment taken from the Asia was recovered.

The pirates were thorough in ransacking the Asia and some of the loot is still hidden among the rocks near the scene of the wreck. The search for the booty is being continued.

RECORD CLASS TO ENTER WEST POINT

Will Have Largest Number of Future Officials in History of Institution.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The class entering the United States military academy this year will be the largest in the history of the institution. Special examination for the admission of cadets are now in progress throughout the country with only nineteen congressional districts unrepresented.

A short time ago the War Department faced a problem in filling the large number of vacancies then existing in this class. General Wood believed it was not due to any lack of interest in the army, but arose from the fact that it was not generally known that the vacancies existed. This proved correct. As soon as the situation became known applications began to flow into the War Department.

63,000,000 BARRELS OF BEER SOLD IN YEAR

NEW YORK, July 7.—No less than 63,000,000 barrels of beer were sold in the United States during the twelve months ending June 30 last, or an increase over the previous twelve months of 6.2 per cent, according to the annual report of the beer and whiskey sales made public today by the United States Brewers' Association.

Notwithstanding the increase, which the report contends indicates that the country is prosperous, the spread of prohibition has affected the trade considerably, it is declared.

BERLIN, July 7.—Dr. Wilhelm Bode, director of the Royal Museum, strongly defends the authenticity of Rembrandt's famous painting, "The Mill," against the attack of Prof. von Seidlitz of Dresden. Dr. Bode, who studied the picture closely while it was being cleaned here, says that it is a Rembrandt beyond doubt.

FRANCE IS VICTOR IN FLIGHT THROUGH THE AIR

CLOUDS SEND MERCURY DOWN

Relief From Heat Is Felt in All But Two Large Cities of the East

Baltimore and Washington Still Sweeter Under Hot Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Relief from the heat has come to practically every large city in the country except Baltimore and Washington, which are included in a little circle now monopolizing all that is left of the record-breaking hot wave.

Marked reductions in temperatures are reported from New England, New York, Pennsylvania and the lake regions, and it is somewhat cooler in the lower Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys. It is slightly warmer over the northern plains and in the Rocky Mountain regions, but this will be of short duration as a change to cooler weather already has set in along the Pacific coast.

MERCURY DROPS.

In New York at 8 a. m. the thermometer registered 82, four degrees warmer than at the same hour yesterday, but a 20-mile ocean breeze swept over Manhattan and an appreciable rise in temperature is expected. Washington's temperature at 8 o'clock was 80, as it has been at the same hour for the past four mornings, and the day promises to be another scorcher.

Boston, one of the four hottest places on the map yesterday morning, started today at 76, a drop of ten degrees, and in Chicago it was 74, six degrees lower than yesterday.

CLOUDS HIDE SUN.

KANSAS CITY, July 7.—Clouds over the southwest this morning and general rains and thunder storms last night so lowered the temperature that none of the extreme heat of the last week will be exhibited in that territory today, according to the local forecaster. Further north in Nebraska and Northern Kansas, hot weather conditions again prevailed with little rain in sight.

TORRID WEATHER BREAKS.

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—The torrid weather has been broken. During the heated period there were 50 deaths and 50 prostrations. Among the heat victims was Dr. Thomas Welsh, who

'ABSOLUTE LIFE' DECIDEDLY NEBULOUS

Witness in See Trial Says It Is Feeling Like Walking On a Cloud

Unstable Footing Regarded as Good Definition of the Cult.

CHICAGO, July 7.—"I saw a new light, and a feeling was in me, as though there were something for me to do to better myself and better the world at large. It was a feeling which was like walking on a cloud. That feeling was absolute life."

The foregoing statement, given in the testimony of Mrs. Lucille Bridges in the abduction trial of Evelyn Arthur See today, regarded by the defense as one of the best definitions of the cult given during the present case. Mrs. Bridges is the mother of Mildred, whose father, Stephen D. Bridges, alleged that See held the girl at his flat for immoral purposes.

"Mildred is our only child," said the witness. "She was made so much of that she became stubborn and somewhat spoiled. There was a decided change for the better after she began studying Mr. See's teachings."

Mrs. Bridges denied that there had been any disrobing in the See flat. "Did you ever tell your husband that you had a revelation of motherhood?" Attorney Cantwell asked.

"No," was the reply.

The witness stated that she had made contributions of $1000 and $500 respectively to the cause of "Absolute Life."

Oxonian Crew Beats Canadians on Thames

Semi-Final Race at Henley Exciting, Magdalen College Winning.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, July 7.—The Ottawa rowing club's eight won today in the semi-final heat for the grand challenge cup, by the Magdalen College crew, the present holders of the trophy.

It was a grand and exciting race. The Oxonians finally obtained the lead and drew away from the Canadians when close to the winning post and won by two lengths. The time was 6 minutes and 55 seconds.

SEEK RESPITE FOR DOOMED WOMAN

Prominent Chicago Club Members to Appeal to Canadian Officials.

Expected Baby Awakens Pity for Mrs. Napolitano, Under Death Sentence.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Some of the most prominent women of Chicago have taken up the cause of Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, who is under sentence of death for the murder of her husband at Sault Ste. Marie, Canada.

The date for the execution is set for August 12. Unless the calculations of the prison physicians are wrong August 12 will fall within two weeks after Mrs. Napolitano has become a mother.

The women at the head of the movement in Chicago are Mrs. Charles H. Rotin of the Chicago Women's Club, Mrs. Laverne W. Noyes of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. L. D. Rely of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. Charles F. Fishback of the Tuesday Art and Travel Club and Miss Julia Lathrop of Hull House.

Their campaign takes the form of an appeal to every woman in Chicago to write a letter to Sir Alton Ayres, minister of justice of Canada, urging him to grant Mrs. Napolitano a respite until a month or six weeks after the child is born.

ASKS FOR PARDON.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—Headed by Mayor Behrman and signed by all the city and parish officials, petitions estimated to contain between 50,000 and 100,000 names of residents of New Orleans will be forwarded on July 15 to Earl Grey, Governor General of Canada, asking that Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, under sentence of death at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for the murder of her husband, be pardoned.

Grand Jury Has Indicted Morse

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The grand jury this morning returned an indictment against Harold Morse, who a week ago is alleged to have run down Eugene Place on Van Ness avenue. Place was horribly injured and the machine, or which Morse is said to have been the chauffeur, failed to stop and render aid. This failure has now been made a felony in the State and the indictment charges that offense.

TELEPHONE OFFICIALS PROMOTED DELURY TO GO TO SAN FRANCISCO

THOMAS F. DELURY, who has been transferred from Oakland to San Francisco, where he will be District Commercial Superintendent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

H. C. Brownlee to Be Superintendent in Oakland

Four changes affecting the managerial departments of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Greater Oakland and San Francisco were announced today by the officials of the company in this city. In each instance the change carries an advance in grade to the persons concerned and has its inception in years of faithful service on their part.

Thomas F. Delury, district commercial superintendent at Oakland, is promoted to a like position in San Francisco, and will assume his duties across the bay at once. The promotion of Delury is distinct and inclusive as the San Francisco district is the largest in the company's territory, which embraces all of the Pacific coast states.

TELEPHONE EXPERT.

Delury came to the Oakland district as manager directly after the San Francisco disaster of April 18, 1906, being promoted to the position of district commercial superintendent last September. He has been with the company for fifteen years and is considered one of the most efficient telephone experts in the Pacific coast sections.

Starting in with the company in San Francisco as a boy he early earned and received recognition as a competent employee. His first managerial position was at Fresno. Later he was transferred to other points in a like capacity, and ultimately to Oakland, about five years ago.

During his residence in this city Delury has made many friends by his courteous treatment of the company's patrons and by his genial, cheery manner. He leaves Oakland with considerable regret for that reason, while appreciating to the full the recognition of his services given by his promotion to the San Francisco district. Today he is receiving the congratulations of hundreds of Oaklanders upon his deserved advance in rank.

H. C. Brownlee, who today assumes the duties of district commercial superintendent here, has, since last September, been the company's commercial manager in this city. Like his predecessor in office, Brownlee is an expert telephone man who has seen years of service with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. He was for a period manager of the company's interests at San Jose, and prior to that time had for six months been manager of the Berkeley office. For ten years he was manager of the Alameda office, and before that was stationed at Reno, Nev., in charge of the company's interests in that state.

His promotion to the office of district commercial superintendent at Oakland comes as a well deserved recognition of long and faithful service, and is hailed by his many friends in Alameda county with pleasure. The Oakland district is second only in size and responsibility to San Francisco, the latter being the most important in the central division. Eight counties are covered by the new district, in all of which the new district commercial superintendent is well known and liked.

Brownlee's position as commercial manager here has been filled by the promotion of Maynard Bailey, until today manager of the company's Berkeley office. Bailey is succeeded as manager at Berkeley by B. A. Glover, hitherto contract agent for the Oakland district.

GIRL DOWNS CONNEAU WINS 1000-MILE AIR RACE

Miss Bertha Rapp Celebrates Fourth With Wrestling Match.

A Challenge Issued On Board Ship Ends in Humiliation of Man.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Miss Bertha Rapp, an athletic American girl of German parentage and teacher of calisthenics in New York, was the chief figure in a unique Fourth of July celebration on board the steamship Adriatic, just in from Southampton. The young woman is about 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds.

Her specialty is wrestling and she challenged any man aboard the ship to bouts of five minutes each, catch-as-catch-can.

Two second-cabin passengers, one an American bicycle rider, Arthur Libby, who weighs 140, and George Lehmann, a German, who weighs 185, accepted the challenge. The bouts took place on part of the deck dividing the first from the second cabin, and all passengers except those in the steerage crowded about the gladiators.

Miss Rapp wore a sweater and short skirt and the men were stripped to undershirts.

Libby held out against the young woman in the first bout, but she put his shoulders to the mat in the third minute of the second bout. Then she took on the stout German. He proved a tough proposition.

They wrestled twenty minutes with intervals of rest between the five-minute bouts. The German had some science and much muscle, which, combined with his weight, resisted the gallant efforts of the young woman to put him down.

He also could do nothing with her. In fact his chief object seemed to be to prevent himself from being thrown. The referee called the contest a draw at the end of the fourth bout, when neither wrestler seemed fit to continue.

French Naval Officer Pilots His Craft to Victory Over Aerial Seas.

Fifty Navigators Sign for the Voyage, But Only Nine Make Harbor.

PARIS, July 7.—Lieutenant Conneau, whose racing name is Andre Beaumont, won the 1000-mile international circuit aviation race, which ended today at the aviation field at Vincennes. As he had already won the Paris to Rome contest, Conneau brings added glory to the French navy, of which he is an officer. Garros was second and Vidral finished third.

Of the fifty aeroplanists who took wing at Vincennes on June 18, nine reached the final goal. Two of the racers, Le Martin and Landron, and Captain Princet, who had been detailed to work out certain problems in reconnaissance in connection with the race, were killed on the opening day. Several others received more or less serious injuries from falls.

$100,000 IN PRIZES.

The course took the airmen through four countries, from Paris across Belgium and Holland, over the English Channel to London and return. Prizes aggregating about $100,000 were given.

The nine survivors started at Calais at 6 o'clock this morning on the final leg to Paris with a stop at Amiens. Kimberling had a bad fall into a wheat field near Boulogne-sur-Mer. His machine capsized and was demolished. The aviator, for a wonder, escaped injury and gamely motored back to Calais, where he procured a new aeroplane and made a fresh start.

A vast crowd was at Vincennes for the finish, but cordons of troops kept the strictest order to prevent the possibility of catastrophes like those at Issy-les-Moulineaux at the state of the Paris to Madrid contest, when General Bertheaux, the minister of war, was killed and Premier Moncaux and others were injured by an aeroplane that crashed into the crowd. Today M. Lepin, the prefect of police, forbade the aviators flying over Paris, and ordered them to make a detour of the city.

The racers were given a splendid welcome as they came to earth. The Vincennes woods rang with cheers as Beaumont stepped out of his machine. Fellow officers, rushing up, first embraced and then carried him off the field in triumph.

The race really was between Beaumont and Roland Garros, the leaders by many hours in the combined stages up to Calais. Garros arrived here ten minutes ahead of Beaumont, but the latter won on elapsed time for the entire race.

Kimberling arrived at 10:31. He announced that Vedrines had smashed his machine at Amiens, but was starting again with a new one.

The official times of the flyers from Calais to Paris is as follows: Vidral, 2 hours 33 minutes 6 seconds; Gibert, 2:36:40; Garros, 3:13:49; Beaumont, 3:26:15; Reneaux, 4:13:09; Kimberling, 4:21:24.

The best time record for the entire circuit: Beaumont, 58 hours 36 minutes 45 seconds; Garros, 62 hours 18 minutes 34 seconds; Vidral, 63 hours 32 minutes.

RAILWAYS TOLD TO CUT PRICES

Same General Tariff Ordered From Portland and South Portland

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today issued an order effective September 15, directing railroads in the northwest to establish generally the same rates on lumber and forest products from South Portland and the Portland area.

On shipments to Southern Idaho and Montana, the commission allowed a rate of one cent a hundred pounds higher from South Portland than from Portland. The railroads heretofore have charged generally higher rates from South Portland due to the fact that the lumber yards there are not located on the main lines entering Portland.

A practice of many railway carriers of absorbing their divisions at a through rate on property purchased for their own use, so that the original shipper shall pay only that portion of the through rate which accrues to the initial carriers today was condemned as unlawful by the commission.

The particular case was that of the Beekman Lumber Company of Kansas City against southwestern lines.

In another case brought by the Beekman Lumber Company, the commission condemned contracts between shippers and carriers which look to the imposition of unpublished divisions of joint rates.

COALGATE, Okla., July 7.—Charles Schultz of Oklahoma City dropped to death yesterday at Phillips, two miles south of here, when after he had become entangled in the guy ropes of a burning balloon, and been carried to a height of 100 feet in the air, the charred man gave way.

Blames Indian Mystics for Husband's Disappearance

BOSTON, July 7.—Believing that her husband's strange disappearance more than a year ago was caused by Indian mystics who desire the return of a marvellously hideous ring he possesses, Mrs. Swanton Swanton of Chester, Eng., arrived in Boston last night on the 46th day of her search for her husband, which has carried her to India and across the Pacific Ocean to Boston. Swanton received a strange silver ring bearing a hideous blue stone as a reward of service from an Indian doctor five years or more ago. He was continually besought by natives of India for the return of the ring. He went to India to learn the cause and America was lost to his wife. Mrs. Swanton was told that her husband had been seen by a friend in Boston and is here to find him.

DR. CHAS. F. AKED BRANDS SOCIAL EVIL, MAN'S EVIL Declares at Suffrage Meeting That Woman Alone Can Curb Bad State of Affairs

BERKELEY, July 7.—Declaring that the social evil is man's evil and that men are the pursuers and women the victims, Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the First Congregational church of Berkeley, declared eloquently in behalf of the ballot for women, at the largest suffrage mass meeting ever held in Berkeley, in the high school auditorium last evening.

"If you declare that the social evil is one which cannot be controlled," said Dr. Aked, "True, it cannot be swept away in the twinkling of an eye, but woman should be allowed a chance to remove this infamous outrage upon womanhood. It has begun to love your state to glory in its life. I shall try to say things that are unjust or untrue about California, but the state is not free from reproach. The age of consent among girls in this state is 16 years. There are in California 201 women who are ministers of the gospel, 522 physicians, 60 lawyers, 116 journalists, 52 dentists, 9 bankers, 22 commercial travelers, 1000 college professors and presidents and 8500 public school teachers. But not one of these is old enough or wise enough to vote, but at the age of 16 every single one is old enough to vote herself into a life of shame. Against such a state of things the womanhood of California is in revolt."

PASSION FOR MONEY.

"It is not out of sex feeling that the evil derives its support, but from the hideous passion for money," he declared. "For every woman down in the depths there are ten men financially interested in her shame. There is not one girl in Chicago who is not living at home who is not in danger of being trailed during the day and night by men who are seeking her downfall. The system has grown up under man-made laws and man's administration."

Dr. Aked, the celebrated divine, and Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, who has more than a local reputation, shook hands for the first time last night at the suffrage meeting.

The pastor and the former clergyman met on the stage of the auditorium, upon which sat other men and a large assemblage of women workers for the cause.

The auditorium which seats almost 5000 persons was crowded with men and women auditors. The gathering, which was under the auspices of the College Equal Suffrage League, included many of the 1600 students attending the summer session of the university.

With true British fervor, Dr. Aked voiced frequently from his seat on the stage the admonitory "Hear, hear," in sanctioning the remarks of other speakers. Later in the evening he had his little joke with Americans, whom he accused of claiming a monopoly on humor. The bit of the evening was his assertion that English women are nearer to obtaining the ballot than their American sisters because of the more humorous and less serious sense of humor among the British people. He explained that the ridicu-

Great Heat Changes Climates of Eastern Cities, Says Engineer

CHICAGO, July 7.—The heat generated by the great cities of the present day is changing their climates to a marked degree, according to the belief expressed by Reginald P. Heilmann, Bolton, president of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

President Tolton, who made known his views on the subject at the opening session of the engineers' convention at the Hotel La Salle, said observations covering a period of many years in New York city have proved that the climate of the city has become both warmer and drier with the growth of the city.

Zero temperatures have been infrequent in New York city for many years, Bolton found, and since 1904 have been unknown. At the same time the rainfall has decreased from an average of forty-five inches per year to the present average of thirty-five inches. The decrease has been particularly rapid in the last few years, being four inches since 1902 and the number of cloudless days has increased from 96 to 114.

DEATHS IN BOSTON. TOLL IS SWELLED.

BOSTON, July 7.—Although the official thermometer recorded only 75 degrees today four deaths from heat were recorded in greater Boston.

SUCCESS IN MORNING.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Eleven deaths occurred in the metropolis before 10 o'clock, the largest number recorded that early in the day. The temperature during the forenoon was between 80 and 85. MORGAN ELECTED BERKELEY SCHOOL BOARD HEAD

Mrs. Elinor Carlisle On Financial Committee of New Organization.

HIGH SCHOOL FIRE PROTECTION INADEQUATE

Chief James Kenney Is Asked to Investigate the Matter

BERKELEY, July 7.—Professor William Conger Morgan was unanimously elected to the presidency of the local board of education at the first meeting of the new body held last night.

Routine matters occupied the remainder of the evening, including the election of subordinate officers and the discussion of fire protection at the high school.

Mrs. Elinor Carlisle, John A. Wilson and Roy J. Young were appointed by President Morgan to serve as a financial committee pro tem. Morgan was elected to the presidency of the high school board. The officers and members of the other boards will be selected at a future meeting.

Superintendent F. F. Bunker announced that examinations for candidates for teachers in the grammar schools of the city would be held on Friday and Saturday, July 14 and 15, and that it would be necessary, according to law, to have a number of the candidates with the principal of one of the local high schools, as a committee of examiners. An election was held for the purpose of choosing the two board members and Herman L. Stern and Mrs. Elinor Carlisle were selected. It was voted to choose one of the high school principals now in the city to act as a member of the examining committee.

FIRE PROTECTION INADEQUATE.

The school houses and sites committee reported that the matter of fire protection at the high school building had been investigated and it was found to be inadequate. The committee members favored a larger pipe service in the building and a higher water pressure. The board voted to ask Chief James Kenney of the fire department to investigate the matter.

The report of Superintendent of Schools F. F. Bunker, including teachers' recommendations and other matters pertaining to school interests was adopted. It was voted to retain F. L. Stuart as a special teacher of manual training in the high school. The recommendation to retain Stuart was inadvertently omitted in the list of teachers' recommendations. The retention of H. P. Shelton, a science teacher at the high school for a six months' leave of absence was extended to one year, following a request to that effect, submitted by Superintendent Bunker. Bunker stated that it was easier to procure a substitute for one year than for six months and that considerable inconvenience would be caused by such a short leave of absence.

The grammar school expenses for the last month totaled $54.13 and the high school expenditures were $73.14. The report of the Oakland Abstract and Title Company, on the value of school property in the city, was referred to the attorney for the board.

The next meeting of the board will be held on Friday, July 18.

Berry and others dived for him, recovering the body in fifteen feet of water after 20 minutes of resuscitation was tried. Feldcamp, who evidently had an attack of heart failure, could not be restored to life.

Young Berry has returned from the Russian river.

Two new volleyball courts for boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 12, have been erected upon the baseball field immediately adjoining the cinder track, and the growing demand for basketball for girls has led to the erection of two more basketball courts. The two courts within the track will be devoted in the future to the use of the girls of the grammar grades.

CHILD OF COUPLE SEES DRUNKEN QUARREL

Alameda Wife Declares That Spouse Beat Her Up Unmercifully

ALAMEDA, July 7.—With her eyes almost closed from repeated blows and her body bruised and sore, Mrs. Nelly Neuman sits in the city prison with a charge against her of disturbing the peace, while her husband, Jake Neuman, a character well-known about the police courts of this city is at large and is charged, beating the wife almost into insensibility.

Mrs. Neuman and his wife were both drinking last evening, and the man had in his possession $65 which Mrs. Neuman claimed belonged to her. She attempted to get it away from him, but he threw her to the ground and the woman alleges that he kicked and beat her unmercifully.

They both rolled down stairs to the front of the house and the 13-year-old daughter of the pair sent a hurtful call to the police to separate them. Detective Brown arrived on the scene and arrested the woman after Neuman had made his escape.

The young daughter of the pair faints when her mother was taken away in the patrol and remained in an unconscious condition for some time.

Mrs. Neuman appeared before Police Judge Tappan this morning and refused to plead either guilty or not guilty. She will be held in the local jail until tomorrow morning, when she will again go before the judge.

ANDERSON WOULD PUT CHECK ON EXPENSES

Requisition System of Obtaining Supplies Proposed by Council.

ORDINANCE WILL BE DRAWN UP AT ONCE

Batch of Bills Left Over for the Commission Cause of Protest

Establishment of a requisition system of obtaining supplies to form a check upon department expenditure will be made by the new City Council, if the suggestion made by Commissioner Harry Anderson is taken. City Attorney Ben F. Woolner was directed to prepare an ordinance providing a method of purchasing supplies, to eliminate the indiscriminate purchasing of supplies by municipal offices. This will reduce the matter to a system operative in all offices, and will check extravagance in addition to placing responsibility on the head of the department.

The matter came up in connection with the presentation of a batch of bills left over from the old city administration for their approval by the new council. Councilman Anderson asked who had authority to order the articles named in the bills and was answered that the subordinate in the department from which the bills came.

"This is a careless way of handling the matter," said Councilman Anderson. "Some system should be worked out to check any careless or extravagant expenditure and to place the responsibility. These purchases should be passed upon by some one in authority before they are made, instead of being presented after the purchase has been made and the bill rendered."

It was directed that the City Attorney should confer with City Expert Accountant L. G. Jordan, City Auditor George Gross and City Assessor Meese to form a system and embody it in an ordinance.

GHOULS STEAL FROM DEAD MAN

Police Appealed to by Woman to Locate Missing Valuables.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Claiming that the body of a dead man was desecrated and stripped of valuables to the amount of over $200, Miss Agnes Hughes of 2475 Sutter street made complaint to the police this morning.

Miss Hughes declares that her uncle, Joseph H. Maloney, of 395 Fell street, died of heart failure in a doorway at 32 Clay street on July 2. His remains were found by Officer Conner, but there was missing a diamond ring, a gold watch and chain, a locket set with stones and considerable money.

The deputies of the coroner's office found nothing on the body and it is the theory of the sorrowing relatives that thieves robbed the dead man as he lay in the darkness of the doorway.

GIFT OF $5000 TO THE SAN MATEO ELKS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Charles Clark, son of the Montana copper king, visited the Elks clubhouse in San Mateo Wednesday night, for the first time in eighteen months, and handed over to Gale Campbell, secretary of the club, $5000 which, it is said, he promised the club during the Christmas celebration of the Elks in 1909.

Shortly after the alleged promise, Clark's father came to the coast, and it was reported, cut down his son's annual allowance. Clark remained away from the club, and his promise of the $5000 was forgotten until the presentation of his check for that amount Wednesday night. Clark departed yesterday over the Western Pacific for Salt Lake City.

GOVERNMENT MAY BUY BIG PLANT

Rumor That the Union Iron Works May Go to Uncle Sam

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Summoned by Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, which owns the Union Iron Works, John A. McGregor, president of the local plant, and its general manager, Joseph J. Tynan, will leave for the East in a few days to confer with Schwab in New York.

It is stated on good authority that the conference with Schwab is another step toward the sale to the United States government of the drydocks and other property at Hunters' Point, and perhaps the Potrero plant, for the use of the navy. The navy department, it is reported, has already asked Schwab what price he would ask for the Union Iron Works properties, for which he paid $1,875,000. It is said that the navy department and President Taft consider that the importance of having a great naval station on the broad waters of San Francisco bay is so great that $3,000,000 would be a reasonable price to pay for it.

The plan is to establish a navy yard for both construction and repair at Hunters' Point, where there is ample land available, a good, deep channel leading to it, a solid foundation for dry docks, two of which already exist, and accessibility by rail. The Mare Island navy yard would be retained for the use of cruisers and torpedo craft, and for laying up smaller warships in reserve, if more room were needed.

BOY IS MISSING.

Alfred Monis of 1451 Seventh street, left his home July 5 and his parents have not been able to hear anything concerning him since. The boy is 14 years of age, and it is thought that he has run away from home to go to the country. The boy wore a brown suit of clothes and brown hair when last seen.

MUSIC TEACHERS CHOOSE THE SOUTH

Next Convention of Association Will Be Held in Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The Music Teachers' Association of California in annual meeting here today chose Los Angeles for next year's convention. The choice was unanimous and the date was set for the first week in July. Oakland, Berkeley and Sacramento withdrew from the contest.

A number of new rules in relation to membership were submitted today and were referred to the board of directors who are known to be hostile to them. They were designed to set minimum lesson rates, to stop the donation of free musical services to public gatherings and other restrictions of the kind.

The feature of the day musically was the recital of Arthur Foote's compositions, given by the composer himself assisted by Miss Anna Miller Wood, the contralto, Arthur Weiss, the cellist, and Giulio Minetti, the violinist. Dr. H. J. Stewart gave an illustrated talk on the organ as a solo instrument. "Music in the Public Schools" was the subject chosen by F. E. Chapman of the state university. Others taking part in the musical exercises were Pierre Douillet, Ricardo Encarnacao, George Kruger, Mrs. Grace Davis Northrup, Guya Ormay and Mr. Heinemann.

PUBLIC LIBRARY STAFF TO UNDERGO NO CHANGE

Under the new charter the old staff of employees of the Public Library will remain the same. The new board of directors has reorganized with Frank Parcells as president and Charles S. Greene secretary.

The library staff will include: Librarian, Charles S. Greene; associate librarian, Fredrick L. Bamford; head of circulation department, Miss Carrie K. Louderbeck; first assistant, Miss Edith Stetson; second assistant, Miss Katherine D. Jones; assistants, Miss Linda Kemp, Mrs. Harriet H. Hill, Mrs. L. G. McConnell; chief of the catalogue department, Miss Jennie M. Fenton; chief of branch and document department, Miss Martha E. Haven; chief of reference department, F. L. Bamford; assistants, Miss Mabel W. Thomas, Miss Kate L. Whitten; curator of reading-room, Miss Edith A. Hibberd; evening curator, E. G. Bangs; curator of museum, Charles F. Wilcomb; head of branch libraries, Miss Mary Baraby. The records for the fiscal year ending June, 1911, show that 455,154 books were issued to subscribers.

ST. PAUL'S PARISH RECORDS BIG MORTGAGE

In accordance with permission granted by the Superior Court several weeks ago the rector, warden and vestrymen of St. Paul's church in Grand avenue yesterday recorded a mortgage for $24,000 in favor of John C. Adams on property fronting along Bay Place, the loan to run for a period of four years.

OLYMPIC CLUB HAS STRANGE VISITOR

Street Car On Nocturnal Rampage Crashes Through the Wall of Building

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The Olympic Club has had many and varied visitors since moving to its present location in temporary quarters at Post and Mason streets, but the late stayers and after-theater diners were much surprised shortly after 1 a. m. today when a United Railroads car on a rampage made a sudden entrance into the building.

The conductor and motorman have not yet explained how it happened, but with one passenger, and with trolley wheels and windows smashed, the vehicle plowed its way into the side of the frame structure. The car in charge of Motorman T. Sweeney and Conductor J. Bally, and carrying one passenger, dashed down the Post street hill, struck an obstruction, jumped the track, dashed up on the sidewalk and smashed through the wall.

An investigation disclosed the fact that no one had been injured, and other than the damage to the building and the car, no loss was sustained.

DEMOCRATS TO SAIL WITH TAFT

Four Republican Senators Are Also Included On Week-End Cruise

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Taft's week-end cruise on the Mayflower, which begins late tonight at Philadelphia, will not be a partisan affair as at first supposed. The President has invited eight senators to accompany him and of these four are Republicans and four Democrats.

The party will include Penrose of Pennsylvania, Root of New York, Briggs of New Jersey and Brewster of Nebraska, Republicans; Taylor of Tennessee, Foster of Louisiana, Bacon of Georgia and Overman of North Carolina, Democrats. Brown at times leans toward insubordination.

The President left this afternoon with Secretary Hilles and Major A. W. Butts for Atlantic City, where he will address the Christiana Bazaar. He expects to reach North Philadelphia about midnight.

The cruise will last, according to present plans, until Monday morning. The Mayflower will steam down Delaware bay around to Hampton Roads and up the Potomac to Washington.

WILSON RECALL REPORT; CANARD

Rumored Action Against Mayor of Berkeley Without Any Foundation

BERKELEY, July 7.—The report that a petition for the recall of Mayor J. Stitt Wilson had been placed in circulation today was proved a canard.

It developed that Chester Staley, a waiter in a small restaurant who was defeated in his ambition to be city assessor, started the rumor, on account of his opposition to Mayor Wilson, who favored Harry Squires, present assessor, for the position, rather than Staley.

No legal recall petition can be circulated before an official of the city has been in office three months.

NO MILK WHITE FLAG FOR NAVY

German Admiral Can See No Hope for Universal Peace.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7.—A local paper prints an extended interview with Admiral Treppe, commander of the German Baltic Sea fleet, who is visiting in this city, in which the admiral is quoted as saying that universal peace is not possible.

"We will never come to universal peace," he says. "My country and yours are making no mistake in constructing dreadnaughts that will make each navy surpass any strength heretofore known to civilization, for the time of everlasting peace is beyond all possible maintenance by man. Civilization is making rapid strides forward, and to cope with each new condition we must have protection such as only the present and future navies of the foremost countries can and will produce."

COMPLAIN OF THEFTS.

A long brown bearskin coat, valued at $200, was stolen from an automobile at Idora Park on July 4, according to complaint made this morning to the police by the owner, George P. Mason, of 2200 Vallejo street, San Francisco. Other thefts reported were as follows:

Joseph Toplak of the National House; room entered, clothing valued at $15 stolen.

Genovieve Shannon of 605 Telegraph avenue; watch valued at $35, stolen while in crowded street car.

REV. J. A. DIETRICH JOINS UNITARIANS

Severs All Connection With the Reformed Church at Pittsburg, Pa.

PITTSBURG, July 7.—Rev. John A. Dietrich, who resigned the pastorate of St. Marks Reformed Church when the Allegheny Classis charged him with failing to preach in accordance with the creed of the reformed church, has decided to unite with the Unitarian church. Mr. Dietrich dissented from many of the orthodox views of his congregation, and when the charges were brought he resigned to prevent those who had supported his views from being involved in the controversy.

Mr. Dietrich declares he has accepted an invitation from Rev. Lewis R. Wilson, secretary of the American Unitarian Association, to join the Unitarians, asserting that his view point is essentially Unitarian. Mr. Dietrich has declined an invitation to become assistant pastor of the First Unitarian church here, giving as his reason that a great many members of the St. Marks Reformed Church would leave and join the First Unitarian Church.

It is believed his acceptance of a place in the Unitarian ministry will put an end to all the proceedings for his trial on heresy.

VALUABLE PEARLS STRANGELY VANISH

Wealthy Widow Mourns Mysterious Disappearance of Costly Jewels.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The mysterious disappearance of two pearls valued at $2000 on the liner Siberia caused considerable commotion aboard the ship a few hours before she reached this port yesterday. The pearls were the property of Mrs. J. S. Van Buren, widow of the late J. S. Van Buren, who was agent for the Pacific Mail Company at Hong Kong.

Until yesterday morning the pearls were in the safe of the purser on the liner. After breakfast Mrs. Van Buren sent her Chinese servant for the jewels, which were unset, and exhibited them to a number of passengers. She laid the pearls down and then the mystery began, for when the widow went to get them, she could not find them.

Mrs. Van Buren thinks she may have placed the pearls in a basin on the washstand, and the Chinese servant threw them and the water out through the port hole.

BRIDGE FALLS; 3 HURT; 1 KILLED

Old Structure Collapses While Being Demolished by Workmen.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—One was killed and three seriously injured today in the collapse of a section of the old municipal bridge crossing the Arroyo Seco in the north end of the city. The dead man, F. J. Vasquez, was killed by falling from the bridge and striking on his head. Vasquez and four fellow laborers were demolishing the old structure under the direction of Jose Bellings, foreman. They loosened the bolts and the middle section of the span fell. Bellings, A. B. Antunez and Robert Shea were injured.

BIBLE FIRST IN ALL LITERATURE

Prof. G. W. Rine Lectures at Seventh Day Adventist Camp Meeting.

Prof. George W. Rine of the University of Michigan, lectured at the Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting to a large audience last night on the Bible as an essential book for study. Professor Rine said that to train the mind to express the fine emotional passages of the Bible is to discipline the learner, and that it is astronomy and science, it deals with the loftiest and sublime themes deep and profound. In closing Professor Rine said:

"Let me beseech you all as students who, from opportunities and tastes, ought to become the leaders of this age in lofty thought and its elect expression, that you study for poetry, philosophy, history and a pure style of brief expression—that volume that has silently lifted English speech to a height unknown to any other language on the face of the earth."

The speaker concluded his remarks by saying that owing to so many sects in existence it is not right to teach the Bible in our public schools, but it should, by all means, be taken up as a study at the home.

The camp meeting is being held at Telegraph and Ashby avenues, where many tents have been pitched.

HUSBAND THREATENED LIFE, WOMAN ALLEGES

Claiming that during some time last April her husband threatened her with a loaded revolver, Ella E. Smith today filed suit, through her attorney, W. S. Angwin, against William S. Smith, it being further alleged that on several instances she had been subjected to acts of cruelty on the part of her spouse. "I'll get all three of you yet," she says, he told her, wielding the weapon and threatening her and their two children. For this reason Mrs. Smith fears to live any longer with her husband.

HEADS OF SCHOOLS HOLD CONFERENCE

City and County Superintendents Discuss New Apportionment Law

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Yesterday morning's session of the third annual convention of the California city and county superintendents of schools was devoted to a discussion of the new apportionment law under which school funds are now apportioned. Superintendent Mark Keppel of Los Angeles, the father of the bill which apportions to the various districts on a basis of actual attendance instead of according to the results of the school census, led the discussion.

When Keppel made the statement that any teacher who signed a report stating that a child was in attendance when only in constructive attendance, as in the case of the "honorary promotion," was guilty of perjury, Superintendent J. W. Linscott of Santa Cruz and others warmly resented it, and a lively discussion ensued.

Other speakers during the day were: Miss M. Fay Coughlin of the College Equal Suffrage League; Alice D. Ware, president of the State Normal School at Chico; Mrs. N. E. Davidson of Kings county; W. F. Fick of Alameda; L. W. Hancock of Mendocino and others.

Ables Has One Bad Inning and Oaks Lose Out to Hen Berry's Men at Los Angeles

OAKS ANDBEAVERS LOSE OUT WHILE SEALS BEAT VERNON

Ables Has a Jinks, Snooks Was Batted Hard and Miller Outpitched Gipes

"Iron Man" Miller, representing San Francisco, and "Red Top" Gipe, as representative of the Hooligan forces in the shooting line, were pitted against each other at Freeman Park yesterday afternoon and the "Iron Man" had all the best of the duel.

Both these past masters of the pill shooting line did excellent work for their respective clubs and young Gipe need not be ashamed of the way he performed on the mound, for he started him on the downward path and the same thing might be said of Miller.

Regardless of these boasts, it was a good game of ball and San Francisco won because they took advantage of a weakness of two that Hap's gang showed in the critical moments.

Neither side could gather in the run column until the fourth inning and then both broke in.

Hap's rock rollers gathered the first run of the game. Kane, opening the fourth inning, grounded out, Mohler to Moskman. Patterson, next in line, slipped a beauty to left. Brashear hit to McAdie and McAdie booted the ball, Patterson getting around to third base.

On the hit the ball and you run play with Sison "Pa" registered. That was all for Happy until the eighth inning, when, with one in the hole, Carlisle walked, stole second and scored when Kane nearly boosted the ball out of the lot.

As for San Francisco, they gathered three in their half of the fourth like this: Weaver, opening the round, was passed to first and took second while Brashear was tossing Mohler out at first base. Vitt hit to Hesp and he booted. Shaw then slammed one through the infield, the ball hitting the umpire. This filled up the bases, for Weaver couldn't score on the play.

Moskman poked a long one to Carlisle and Weaver scored. Vitt and Shaw registered on Berry's screamer along the third base line.

In the sixth a pass to Moskman and Berry's long double gave them another tally. That's about all there was to it. The score:

ABLES IS HIT HARD.

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—"Flame" Delhi was too much for the Oakland team. The big "red top" held Wolverton's men to five hits and one run. The Commuters got to second base but three times during eight innings and in three sessions the enemy cleaned but three hits.

The Angels on the other hand, took kindly to Ables' offerings in the early stages of the game. Four runs, plenty to win, were scored in the second. With one down, Delmas singled and went to second on Albin's Texas leaguer. Smith walked, filling the bases. Abbott tracked out a single scoring one man, and two others romped home when Delhi slammed the ball against the score board. Daley's single scored Abbott, who had gone to second on Dillon's grounder.

Brashear completed the circuit, the third after he had been hit by a pitched ball. He took second on Delmas' out, went to third when Ables threw wild to

CRANE DISPOSES OF STABLE; QUILTS RACING GAME

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—Jack Crane disposed of his entire stable at public auction at Laguna yesterday. The prices received were extremely moderate. Lascar brought the highest price of the aggregation, Tom Stevens securing him for $850. A. J. Jackson purchased Sanel for $400.

Rosamo went to Powell and Parker for $310. Joe Stern picked up John H. Sheehan for $400. Red Brownfield bid $300 on First Fashion and he was jockeyed down at that figure. Billy Meyer only brought $510. W. Gabriel being the lucky purchaser. Logan Denny picked up a bargain when he bid $75 on Bellview.

Crane became disgusted and decided a few days ago that the racing game in its present condition was no place for him.

MATT WELLS WANTS A CHANCE TO MEET AD. WOLGAST

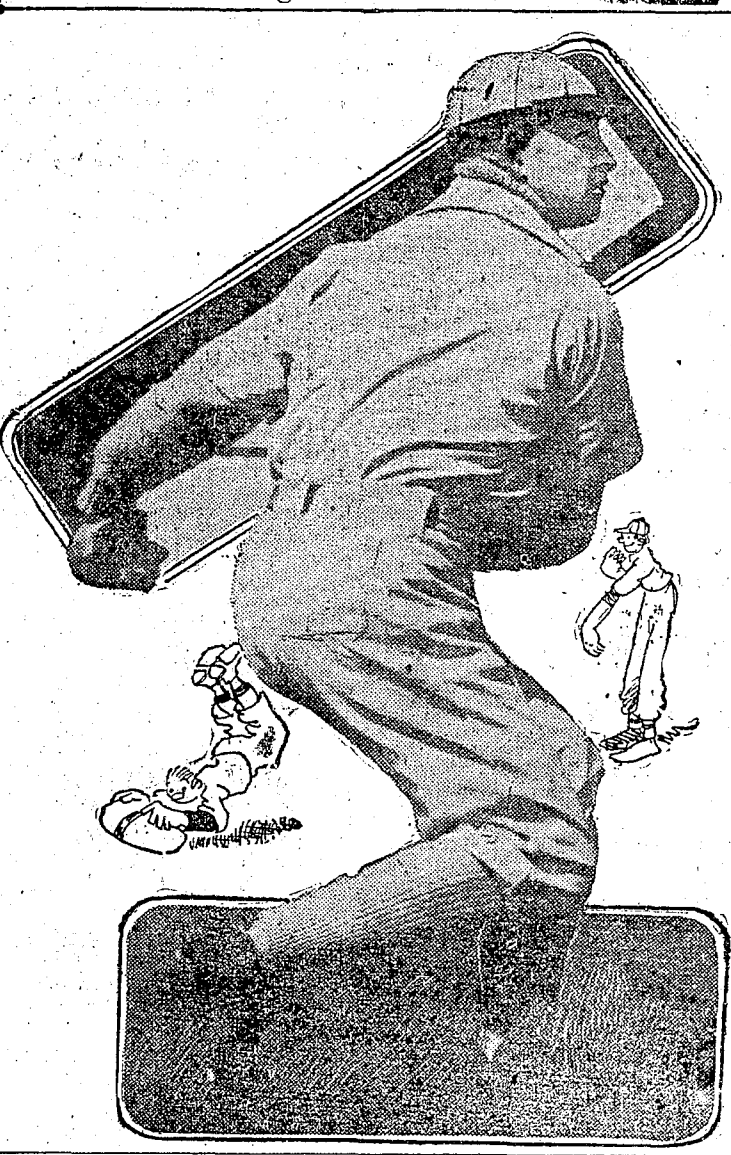

NEW YORK, July 7.—Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion who is preparing near here for his battle with Dick Hyland at Albany, N. Y., on July 20, is rather cut up over the possible ignoring of his challenge to Wolgast, as he has signified his willingness to fight the American champion at 133 pounds, weigh in at 2 p. m. Wells' manager, George McDonald, is of the same opinion. "Wells is entitled," he says, "to some consideration in this discussion about the lightweight honors, and I cannot see why Wolgast should be flitting with Welsh and balking championship fights. At any rate Wells will have and should have considerable to say about any match if it is to be for the world's title."

JUST LISTEN TO THIS.

LONDON, July 7.—Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, has signed an agreement to fight Bill Lang at Sydney, N. S. W., on Easter Monday, 1912.

FRED WELSH CABLES TO OLD COUNTRY FOR BAG OF GOLD

Seems Dead Anxious to Get Side Bet Up With Wolgast for Bout on Labor Day

(By EDDIE SMITH.)

Freddie Welsh and Adolph Wolgast are just entering into what promises to be a long drawn-out tongue war regarding the side bet for their proposed twenty-round contest scheduled for settlement during September. If Ad and Fred were going to meet for a percentage of the gate receipts we would be inclined to believe that they were starting the presswork a little early, and that they already understood each other. As the contest is to go to the highest bidder, however, and each man will be battling for a certain amount regardless of the result besides the $10,000 side bet, there is no reason why either man should subject himself to criticism or go out of his way boosting.

The real reason for the back-firing of words between the scrappy little fellows is envy and rivalry. The big talk just now is the side bet money. It appears that when the first agreement was made between Tom Jones and Baron Long for the match that there should be a $10,000 side bet made at even money.

A sort of preliminary articles were drawn up and each man posted $1000 with John T. Clark as a forfeit for the making good on the $10,000 side bet if the match should be made.

With the forfeit money in the hands of a man like Clark it was agreed that the match was as good as made the side bet assured. Clark is not the sort to be fooled with when posting forfeits, for he doesn't look upon them as jokes and he will surely pay over the money to the man who makes good on the bet if the other fellow fails.

Not satisfied with this, however, Tom Jones, just prior to his leaving San Francisco with Wolgast, handed Clark a check for $3000, with directions that it should be cashed as soon as Welsh had put up the remainder of his money, but not until then.

WELSH IS ANGRY.

This made Welsh rather angry and he accused Wolgast of not being sincere last evening. Freddie even went so far as to say that he feared Wolgast would try to run out on the match and that he would therefore go to Los Angeles with his manager this week and try to come to a final settlement regarding the contest.

In order that he might not be caught napping, Welsh yesterday cabled his backers at Cardiff, Wales, asking that the $3000 money necessary for the side bet be forwarded him at once in order that Wolgast may be given no chance to run out of the match. Freddie feels sure that the cablegram will bring the money immediately and he will then post it.

According to the agreement already signed, the remainder of the money need not have been posted until August 10, but Welsh is so anxious that Wolgast be to run out that he will post his forfeit as soon as it arrives.

When asked as to what his backers would think of backing him at even money against the champion when it was a cinch that Wolgast would be a strong favorite, the little Britisher said that the men of his country who had backed him in most of his matches were so in the habit of giving from two to three to one for their money that they would welcome the chance to bet at even.

As it now stands, Wolgast is at Los Angeles and with Tom Jones he is saying a lot of things about Welsh and Long and Welsh and Long are saying things about Wolgast. It certainly looks to me as if the match would come off and that the side bet will be made. Just who will promote the affair no one will venture an opinion, but it is a cinch that Tom Mc-

Carey of Los Angeles will force the northern promoters to go high to hold it.

WELSH-RITCHIE MATCH OFF.

In order that he take no chances of losing the chance to box Wolgast, Freddie Welsh yesterday announced that he would not take the six-round match with Willie Ritchie offered him by the Oakland Wheelman Club. Welsh says that there are so many things that can go wrong in a contest that he does not feel that he would be doing himself justice in taking the chance of breaking an arm or a hand, or having some other thing go wrong.

This is the first chance Welsh has had to gain the championship and for that reason he will take no chances of losing it.

K. O. Brown of New York is after Ad Wolgast and in a dispatch sent out from New York in which it is stated that Brown was right after the champion and would keep after him until such time as the matter was settled. Brown professes great confidence in his ability to defeat Wolgast and says that the win over Moran has not changed his opinion one bit.

Jimmy Johnson, manager for Joe Costello and Jim Smith, arrived from Los Angeles yesterday morning and is already scouting about looking for matches for both his men. In Jim Smith Johnson has what several of the New York writers have said is the only white hope of them all.

Smith has done well since entering the game and Johnson is very anxious to show him here. Jimmy would like to match his Smith against his Gumbost Smith if a promoter can see his way clear to staging it.

That looks like a pretty good bout for one of the bay city club. One of the clubs could do a lot worse than give Costa a match as well, for while he lost to Rivers, he proved himself a boxer of class and a game and willing fellow. If Johnson can get his man here he feels sure they will make a hit.

FORMER BALL PLAYER SHOOT'S SELF WITH REVOLVER

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—William Leisangring, commonly known as "Bill Dutch," a former ball player and umpire in the Boston League, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a revolver.

He is survived by a daughter and a sister, Mrs. George Tebeau, wife of the owner of the Kansas City baseball team.

HERE'S A MONEY-SAVING Opportunity

THE COST OF LIVING AND THE LIVING WAGE

"Big business" squashes the little businesses—then, with no competition, it charges "all the traffic will bear."

But "Big Bus." still has to reckon with public opinion—though it doesn't fear the law, so blames Organized Labor for the soaring prices.

Take the case of the Hat Trust. The average $3.00 Hat goes occasionally at $2.50 and $2.25 in "sacrifice sales."

And yet we know that standard grade hats, Union Made, in all sizes, and equal to the best in looks and wear, can be sold at a profit for $1.50.

MOISSON DOES IT
Who gets the difference? The union scale is the same. Why don't you keep the difference in your own pocket?

THRILLING TALE OF PALESTINE

Camp Meeting at Beulah Park Continues to Grow in Enthusiasm and Interest.

The camp meeting of the Christian and Missionary Alliance at Beulah Park grows in interest and enthusiasm daily. This morning the speakers were C. H. Bright of Santa Cruz and Mrs. E. J. Scudder of Santa Barbara. This afternoon Rev. A. E. Thompson, who has spent the last seven years in Jerusalem, gave a thrilling story of recent events in Palestine and the near East. Tonight Pastor Marsh will speak on "The Holy Spirit." Tomorrow morning Rev. Mr. Thompson will again speak of Palestine and the Jews. At the afternoon session the children will present a missionary program and bring their annual missionary offering. This will be of interest to old and young. Pastor Marsh will again speak at night. The camp meeting will continue until Sunday night.

38,000 VOLTS FAIL TO KILL.
MARINETTE, Wis., July 7.—Although 38,000 volts of electricity passed through his body, Max Engles of High Falls is still alive and will recover. While fishing in the rear of a power house, Engles touched some of the power wires with his steel rod. He was knocked unconscious, but artificial respiration revived him.

PUPILS CONTRIBUTE TO ANTHEM FUND

Children of 108 Public Schools Add $583 to Coveted Prize.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Children of 108 public schools of Chicago have contributed $583 to the fund which is to be used as a prize for a new national anthem. Ninety-six schools remain yet to be heard from, as the principals of these have not made their reports on the penny collections authorized by the Board of Education.

President James B. McFarland of the board said yesterday that two-thirds of the money contributed had been given by children of foreign parentage, showing, he believes, that foreigners have more sympathy for national songs than have Americans.

COMMANDANT OF STATE SOLDIERS' HOME DEAD

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 7.—Colonel William S. Haggard, commandant of the State Soldiers' Home here and former lieutenant governor of this state, died at the Soldiers' Home today. He served through the Civil war in the Sixteenth Indiana battery, having enlisted at the age of 15. He was once a candidate for governor. Col. Haggard was 64 years of age.

ALLEN DISCOVERS DOCTOR'S TRUST

Missionary Worker Declares Medical Combine Is in Existence.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—Secretary E. W. Allen of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, which is in convention here, created something of a sensation when he delivered his annual report by declaring there existed in this country a doctor's trust. This alleged trust, according to Secretary Allen's report, uses its power to suppress and put out of existence the small medical schools and colleges so as to be able to control the output of young physicians and surgeons in this country.

Allen's denunciation came while he was making an eloquent appeal for volunteers to enter the medical missionary field in foreign countries where hospitals and dispensaries were, according to the secretary, the greatest need in connection with missionary work.

SOLDIERS DEPOSE LEADER.
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 7.—Local newspapers report another bloodless revolution in Paraguay. The garrison at Asuncion revolted and made a prisoner of President Jara, who forthwith resigned. Congress then selected Liberato Rojas, president of the senate, for provisional president pending new elections.

LEGALIZED TRUST STANDARD'S PLAN

Rockefeller Gives Practical Advice On Keeping Within the Law.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Standard Oil Company, it was learned yesterday, on the best authority, has finally decided upon a plan of reorganization by which the trust is split into a number of subsidiary companies, by which the single control of the companies will not be abolished.

The plan has been carefully and thoughtfully laid out by the best brains of the legal profession in the financial world, and the effort has been made to allow the business to continue in practically the same manner with one headship, yet to decentralize it sufficiently into quasi-independent units once more to be legal under the Supreme Court decision.

The master hand of the oil trust, John D. Rockefeller, has on several occasions attended meetings at the Standard Oil offices at 26 Broadway, and given much practical advice on the best method of getting under the ban of the Supreme Court decision.

The plan which most of the directors favor contemplates the exchange of Standard Oil stock for the stock of the subsidiary companies. Each company will then operate its own territory, independent of the other units, which formerly made up the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Thus there will be no danger of attack on the ground of illegality, yet the companies and their earnings will go on as before.

LORIMER HEARING IS WORDY AFFAIR

More Than 1000 Pages of Testimony Taken in First Ten Days.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The complete testimony in the present committee investigation of the election of William Lorimer to the United States Senate bids fair to break all records in point of volume, surpassing even the report of the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry.

With only ten days spent in the hearing so far the committee has compiled 1080 printed pages of testimony. This exceeds the combined volume of the entire first investigation by the United States Senate, comprising 746 pages, and the investigation by the Helm committee of the Illinois Senate committee, comprising 222 pages. The present committee proposes to spend much of the summer on the investigation.

U. C. GLEE CLUB SCORES HIT AT FRENCH CAPITAL

PARIS, July 7.—After a successful concert at the Salle de l'Agriculture, the University of California Glee club went to Pre Catalin in the Bois de Cologne, where they were entertained by Way Cherman, Clifford Cook and Frank Jacott, California boys in Paris. It was the gayest night of the season at the fashionable restaurant.

Elsie Janis, who was there, outdid herself with her long list of varied specialties. The boys played Hawaiian instruments and sang a repertoire of American songs.

This was the first time that the French people have had an opportunity of hearing American collegiate glee singing, and they were wild in their appreciation of the Californians. The boys have been much entertained, including a large dinner at Tolson's. Fifteen members of the club left for London today. The Princeton Glee club will follow the lead of the Californians and come to Paris soon.

NAMES QUARANTINE AID.
SACRAMENTO, July 7.—State Horticultural Commissioner J. W. Jeffrey has appointed Stephen Strong of Los Angeles county as deputy quarantine officer to succeed William Wood of Whittier, who resigned. The appointment was made July 1 and Strong filed his oath of office yesterday.

N. G. C. TO LEARN ART OF FLYING

Eugene Ely Will Head Militia's Aviation Squad in This State.

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—The California National Guard will have an aviation squad and it will be headed by the noted aviator, Eugene Ely. So much became a certainty yesterday, when Ely came to Sacramento and successfully passed an examination for a commission as first lieutenant in the guard to have charge of the proposed aviation squad. Ely arrived here from Reno, Nev., where he has been giving exhibition flights, and immediately went to the State capitol, where he was given the examination in the adjutant general's office by Colonel J. W. Guthrie, Major S. W. Kay and Major Albert E. Stearns. The examination was concluded in time to permit him to take the 3:30 o'clock train for San Francisco.

According to present plans Ely will take up his headquarters at San Francisco with the Coast Artillery and will devote a large part of his time teaching the members of the guard how to fly. Later on, when they become proficient, the aviation squad will be made a part of the signal corps, and with the addition of a wireless telegraph service it is planned to give the guard one of the best scouting and signal services in existence.

RETURNS TO STATE AFTER 62 YEARS

Rev. H. C. Wheeler Is Here to Visit Scenes of Early Career.

After sixty-two years' absence Rev. H. C. Wheeler has returned to California, accompanied by his wife, daughter, Mrs. Annie Jones, and granddaughter, Janie Burns Wheeler, to visit his son and family, James H. Wheeler of 25 Moss avenue, Oakland. Rev. Mr. Wheeler is a Mexican war veteran. With his brother, Colonel J. T. Wheeler of General Van Dorn's division, C. S. A., he was a volunteer in Captain Hayne's company, and Colonel, Thomas' regiment of First Tennessee Cavalry.

In 1849 the brothers came to California. They were the first to place mine on the north fork of the American River. Mr. Wheeler was born in Pulaski, Tenn., in 1828.

TAKES A ROUGH RIDER; JOINS STATE SQUAD

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Taft has become a Rough Rider. Receiving an invitation to join the grand camp of Rough Riders of California, he accepted honorary membership in that organization yesterday.

There is no evidence that the President will do any rough riding himself. The only kind of rough riding that he is accustomed to is the kind that he gets when his automobile goes over the "thank you marm" on the road to the Chevy Chase Golf Club, and the roughness of this road is being removed by the government office of public roads.

The relationship between the President and the Rough Riders of California will not be followed by any stunts such as Roosevelt used to love. Taft simply will give his moral support to the organization.

DEATH UNCHAINED BY JAPANESE EARTHQUAKE

SEATTLE, July 7.—Oriental papers brought by the Sado Maru give details of the earthquake of June 15 in the Lochoo archipelago and on the western shore of Kyushu, Japan. At Naha, the Lochoo capital, one person was killed. In Kagoshima prefecture, Kyushu, five persons were killed. In Satsuma province five persons were killed. In Osumi province, Kyushu, six persons were killed and 400 houses destroyed.

It is credibly reported in Peking that the fortune accumulated by the late empress dowager Tze Hsi, and which amounts to between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, chiefly in gold bars, has been shipped to England, whence it will be transferred to a bank in Brussels for investment.

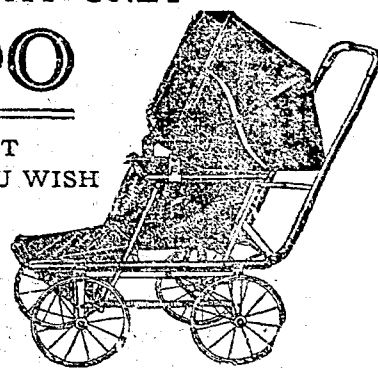

REIDS GIVE RECEPTION.

LONDON, July 7.—American Ambassador Reid and Mrs. Reid gave a reception at Dorchester House yesterday to the American and other delegates to the jubilee meeting of the Institute of Naval Architects. About 300 members with their wives were present, as well as many British naval officers.

NAVAL CADETS EXCITE ADMIRATION IN BERLIN

BERLIN, July 7.—Five hundred American naval cadets from the training ship with the squadron at Kiel yesterday enjoyed a monopoly of public attention. The visitors, traveling without superior officers, had no official reception, and found their way from the railroad station to their hotels as best they could.

They have been taking in the sights of the Kaiser's capital and are being studied with manifest interest by the Berliners, who regard their well-set-up figures with curiosity. The German cadet carries a gold-mounted dagger at his side and is otherwise a somewhat decorative person and the contrast which the severely simple American uniforms presents is pronounced.

The young Americans are undoubtedly making a good impression here on account of their alert and athletic appearance and the quiet, modest manner in which they go about exploring the city.

RECEIVES DIPLOMA 49 YEARS AFTER GRADUATION

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—Colonel Ridgley C. Powers, former governor of Mississippi and for the last eight years a resident of Los Angeles, believes he holds the longest delayed diploma record. He has just received his degree of bachelor of arts as a member of the class of 1862, University of Michigan.

Colonel Powers entered Michigan University in 1838 and completed the literary course in 1862. Instead of remaining for commencement he went to the Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., was admitted to the senior class and graduated.

When he came to Los Angeles he became a member of the University of Michigan club. The degree of bachelor of arts was given him last November, but he was in Honolulu and did not learn of the honor until after his return this spring. A few days ago, just a little more than forty-nine years after his class graduated, Colonel Powers received his diploma.
